The News Kaleidoscope.
Coolidge Well Again.
Big Country, Big Things.
The Mind Rules—But.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Looking into the news when you grow up is like looking into a kaleidoscope when you are little. It's a constant changing and rapid forgetting.

A while ago the whole world felt that nothing could ever be as interesting as news of Germany's effort to reach Paris.

That's ancient history now and our war thought is concentrated on getting back, at leisure, money that we loaned in a hurry.

We are not apt to get very much of it.

The British announce, semi-officially, but firmly, that they expect France to pay England a dollar for every dollar paid us. That doubles the load and multiplies by two reasons for not paying.

President Coolidge is back working at his desk, and that's good news. Citizens, invited to White House breakfasts, report that the president, discussing national affairs in short, crisp sentences, eats buckwheat cakes, with molasses and sausages, between sentences.

That can be done when you pitch hay on the old farm. But the president's recent touch of indigestion will remind him that you must be careful of your stomach, when you hold a job that keeps the blood in your brain all the time, and away from the stomach that needs it for digesting.

Buckwheat cakes and sausages do not go with constant hard thinking.

This country does things in a big way. The new Edison Light company plant in New York will cost fifty millions and will create enough light to supply the whole of France. That one plant develops more power than could be got if all the horses in the United States were hitched up, pulling at one load.

This plant would light 3,000,000 six-room houses, enough for any state in the Union except New York, and enough for New York state, excepting New York city.

John A. Kerr, a retired merchant, found his daughter lying dead, killed by escaping gas. Immediately his heart stopped beating, and he dropped dead.

That's proof that mind controls matters. A mental shock, and nothing else, killed that man.

On the other hand, the ultra-foolish, who think that mind rules and can control everything ignoring nature's physical laws, learn their mistake if they break a bone and do not have it set properly.

"Not too much, not too little" is the sound maxim. Not too much confidence in material things, and not too much ignoring of them.

German scientists, fighting contagious diseases, adopt this motto:

"Don't let your children be kissed by strangers."

A better motto would be:

"Don't let your children be kissed by anyone."

Kissing children that do not belong to you is offensive and dangerous stupidity, and that applies to politicians, and all others.

You need not be diseased to be a carrier of disease. Your own system may resist germs that would be fatal planted on the delicate mucuous membranes of a child.

Old men kill themselves by going to the funerals of other old men, standing bare-headed in the cold wind. That can't be helped; it's sentimental and usually does not matter.

But promiscuous kissing of children by people that should have sense enough to leave the children alone can be prevented, and should be.

No news of Amundsen at this writing. He and his comrades may be struggling for life on the polar ice, or he may have found a safe landing place, with plenty of leisure for the return "hop-off." Amundsen is a thoroughly scientific man. Peary had the honor of reaching the pole first, and he, Amundsen, may decide to examine the polar area thoroughly while he is there—not that there is much to examine.

If wishing could bring a man back to safety, Amundsen would return.

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE TEAMS RAISE $15,530 FUND IN 10 HOURS

Budget Goal is Passed Here on First Day.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Generous Response Makes Two-day Canvass Unnecessary.

Within 10 hours after solicitation was actually started, the $15,000 quota asked by the Y. M. C. A. to meet its budget for the year ending April 30, 1926, was exceeded, according to reports made at a meeting of the workers at the Y building, last evening. Contributions totaled $15,530

Thompson's Division Sets Pace.

One hundred and thirty-one men, including manufacturers, merchants, and professional men of the district, attended last night's meeting, preceded by a dinner, when Attorney W. H. Vodrey, chairman of the board of directors of the institution and campaign chairman, announced the goal was attained.

Division A, in charge of "Colonel" J. Donald Thompson carried off campaign honors, collecting $6,023 as compared with $5,687 garnered in by the workers, directed by Edwin Wells, Jr. The executive committee, canvassing the manufacturers and other large contributors, turned in $3,820.

Team honors went to the squad led by Captain Malcom Thompson of J. D. Thompson's division. Thompson and his co-workers secured pledges amounting to $1,247. Members of the team were called to the speakers' table after the reports had been made and presented with miniature hats, which Campaign Chairman Vodrey reported had been furnished by one of the "crowned heads of Europe." Music, during the dinner, was furnished by the Seven Sirens, a girls' orchestra directed by Mrs. Danks Cochran.

The workers were highly elated over the results of the campaign which was originally planned for two days.

Reports of Teams

This is the first time in Y. M. C. A. history that a campaign here has been put over in less than the allotted period. The report proved a surprise even to the leaders.

The reports of teams follow:

Division A—"Colonel" J. D. Thompson.

Team No. 1.—L. C. Cooper, captain	$ 814
Team No. 2.—Irwin-Williams, captain	810

Ten Bandits Hold Entire Town at Bay As They Loot Bank

KENTLAND, Ind., May 27.—The entire town of Brooks, Ind., near here, was held at bay by a gang of 10 bandits this morning while they smashed open the doors of the Brook state bank, opened the vault with a blast of nitroglycerine which shook the town, and escaped. Before beginning their marauding the bandits cut all telephone and telegraph wires and then raided the telephone company's office, putting the lone operator to flight after he had attempted to arouse the village with the electric fire siren already put out of commission by the robbers. Brooks has about 120 inhabitants.

130 Recognition Students Will Be Honored At Chapel

Gold and Silver Pins Will be Awarded at Closing Exercises in High School Friday Morning.

One hundred and thirty high school students, who qualified for places on the recognition list during the last 24 weeks of the school term, will be honored at the final chapel exercises, to be conducted in the high school auditorium on Friday morning.

Twenty-eight pupils in the A group—students whose grades never fell below the 90 mark at any time during the period the system was in effect—will receive gold pins, bearing the letter "H," for honor, in blue enamel.

Forty-five others in the B classification will receive a silver pin of the same design. This group is made up of students having grades of 90 or above in three subjects, the fourth not being below 80.

The other classification—Group C—numbering 54, will also receive a silver pin without the enameled center, but containing the letter "H" in the center. This group is made up of students, whose grades were not below the 80 mark at any time during the semester. Students in all three groups were also required to qualify in citizenship.

Three other students will also be honored. They are William Dunlap and Homer Boyd, editor and business manager, respectively, of the Keramos, high school paper, who will receive pins bearing the letter "K," for Keramos, and E. K. Bennett Jr., who is also receiving special recognition in view of his splendid work. In addition to his high school studies, young Bennett during his four years in high school, took six extra curricula, including band, orchestra, dramatics, Keramos and athletics.

These pins were to have been awarded at the Recognition day exercises last Thursday afternoon, but did not arrive in time. The ceremonies were then arranged for the closing day of school.

The recognition system, proved successful, according to Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal. The system of posting lists at the end of six-week periods of school was an incentive to students to work harder in order to qualify for one of the three groups.

POLICE ARE INSTRUCTED TO ARREST ONE-WAY TRAFFIC RULE OFFENDERS

Chief [illegible] Dermott Warns Mo[illegible]ts Who Ignore Re[illegible]ions Governing Op[illegible]on of Cars on Wa[illegible]gton Street.

Chief of Police Hugh J. McDermott today instructed patrolmen to arrest all automobilists who ignore the one-way traffic regulations governing operations of motive cars on Washington street.

According to McDermott, many complaints have been received of violations of the traffic order in effect between Fourth and Sixth streets. In an effort to halt the practice, he will assign an officer to this thoroughfare with orders to arrest every violator.

"The one-way traffic rule has been in effect on Washington street long enough for everyone to know it, and motorists who are apprehended for violation of the order can expect no leniency," the chief said.

A new one-way traffic sign has been placed at Sixth street exit of the street to warn drivers. A similar sign is to be erected at the Fifth street exit.

CLEARING WEATHER RENEWS HOPE FOR AMUNDSEN-ELLSWORTH PARTY

North Pole Explorers Well Supplied With Food and Clothing to Make Safe Journey Back by Foot.

OSLO, Norway, May 27.—Clearing weather and bright skies in the polar region gave scientists and members of the Amudsen-Ellsworth party who are still at Spitzbergen renewed hope today that Amundsen and his five associates would return in safety from their North Pole flight.

A greater length of time must elapse, it was indicated by government officials, before there is sufficient apprehension on the part of the Norwegian government to ask the United States or any other outside agency to send searchers after Amundsen. It will be, they said, at least, several days more before the government will consider steps should be taken to determine what has happened to the Amundsen-Ellsworth flyers.

Great interest was displayed here in reports from the United States quoting Bernard Prentice, brother-in-law of Ellsworth, as saying that Ellsworth had said the party might go on to Alaska, if it succeeded in making a successful flight to the pole.

Scientists pointed out that Amundsen and his party were well supplied with food and clothing and would have every opportunity to make a safe journey back on foot in case of accident to the two airplanes.

Prestrud, one of Amundsen's colleagues of the South Pole expedition, said he had not given up hope and would not, even if several months passed without news. He recalled that three days were found necessary to fix the position of the South Pole. He believes, he said, that it would take a similar length of time to fix the position of the North Pole where conditions, he thinks, are more difficult.

Prestrud does not see why Amundsen should not overcome all difficulties, even if he has to march afoot as did Nansen.

FALL, SINCLAIR, DOHENY INDICTED

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and the oil magnates, E. L. Doheny, and Harry F. Sinclair, were indicted here again today by a federal grand jury for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in the California and Wyoming naval oil leases.

This is the second time the three men have been indicted on the same charge. The first indictment was dismissed by the district of Columbia supreme court because unauthorized persons were in the grand jury room, while the inquiry was being made.

The indictments are the outgrowth of the Senate oil lease investigation of a year ago.

"KING OF LAKE RUM RUNNERS" AND NINE OTHERS ARE CAPTURED

Armed Girl Among Prisoners Bagged After Shots are Fired at 42-foot Craft by Cutter.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 27.—Captain Ben Kerr, of Toronto, so-called "king of the lake rum runners," and eight other men and an armed girl, were captured early today following a chase of a 42-foot craft by a coast guard cutter.

Eight shots were fired from the government boat before Kerr brought his boat to a halt and surrendered. Only eight cases of Canadian ale were found on the boat, but hundreds of cases were thrown overboard by the runners in the attempt to escape.

Mae Davis, 25, of Webster, N. Y., dressed as a man, was arrested on shore by customs men who took a revolver from her pocket. She was one of the unloading detail, according to the officers.

Captain Kerr, according to federal officers, is the most daring rum runner on the lake. They have lain in wait for him the last three years, it was said.

Gov. Donahey Asks Hamilton Mayor to Oust Police Chief

COLUMBUS, May 27.—Governor Donahey today wrote Mayor Kelly, Hamilton, asking the mayor to remove Chief of Police Clements. The governor's action was based upon results of an investigation conducted by State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald and followed submission of affidavits to the governor, accusing Clements with laxity in enforcement of laws.

The governor pointed out that Clements had a right to appeal to the state civil service commission for reinstatement. It was claimed Clements was arrested at the Louisville, Ky., Derby races last week and was charged with possessing whisky illegally.

"ROTTEN, ROTTEN," SAYS THAW AFTER ANOTHER WILD NIGHT ON BROADWAY

There's No Comparison Between Times Now and Old Days, White's Slayer Tells Reporter.

BY DAVIS SENTNER.

(Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.)

NEW YORK, May 27.—"Rotten, rotten, rotten. That's how these times compared with the old days. Why, there's no comparison."

Harry K. Thaw, speaking.

He leaned back wearily as the taxicab meandered through Central Park this morning in the sunrise of a new day. It followed a somewhat wild night along Broadway and through the "Roaring Forties"—perhaps the wildest evening Harry has spent since he wound up another wild one some 20 years ago by shooting Stanford White under the gilt Diana atop Madison Square Garden.

A few hours earlier, surrounded by a bevy of chorus girls in a night club, he had lifted his glass and said:

"The women weren't so beautiful in the old days. They were different, too.

INNOCENT PEDESTRIAN IS SHOT DOWN AS SIX FUGITIVES OPEN FIRE

East Liverpool Police Join With Cleveland Authorities in Search for Murderers Who Were in Machine, Owned by Charles M. Shaffer, Which Was Stolen Here Sunday Night.

REVOLVER DUEL WITH DETECTIVE FOLLOWS, BUT GUNMEN ESCAPE

Police Believe Shot That Killed Man on Sidewalk Was Intended for Occupant of House at Webster Avenue N. E. and East 13th Street in Forest City Monday.

Police today joined Cleveland authorities in an attempt to identify six men, believed to be from East Liverpool, who Monday night shot and killed William Stamford, 30, of 2507 Scoville avenue, Cleveland, and then fled in an automobile owned by Charles Shaffer, of Lincoln highway, which was stolen while parked near the First Baptist church, Sunday night.

Identification of the car in which the assailants were riding was established by means of the license number, which was taken while the gunmen were escaping from the scene of the murder. Chief of Police Jacob Graul, of Cleveland, yesterday asked Chief Hugh McDermott to ascertain the identity of the party to whom the license was issued.

Police here recognized the number furnished by Graul as the license number of the car stolen Sunday night and immediately advised the Cleveland police department head that the automobile had been stolen. Shaffer had parked the car in East alley, near the church, while he was attending services. When he left the church at 9:15 o'clock, the machine was gone.

According to the police, Stamford, the murder victim, was standing at the corner of East Thirteenth street and Webster avenue, Cleveland, Monday night when a large touring car, carrying 6 passengers, drove by. As the automobile passed him, the man seated beside the driver is said to have leaned from his seat and shot Stamford three times. He died almost immediately.

Bullets Pierce Back of Car.

Detective John Lynch was standing just a block away from the point where Stamford was shot down and attempted to halt the machine as it dashed past him. He called for the men to surrender and they answered with two shots from the car.

Lynch opened fire on the fleeing machine, two bullets piercing the back of the car. Another shot was returned by the fugitives. The detective commandeered another car and pursued the gunmen to East Twenty-third street and Webster avenue, where he lost the trail.

Cleveland police, who investigated the shooting, believe that the shots were intended for the occupant of the house near which Stamford was standing. They questioned the party to determine whether or not he had any known enemies, but he could throw no light on the affair. Lynch believes that the six strangers were intoxicated.

Suspect Local Men.

After the theft of the Shaffer car was reported to the local police Sunday night, a search was instituted. Roads leading out of the city were combed during the night and all day Monday, but no trace of the automobile was found. The car had been missing for approximately 24 hours when the murder took place.

The description of the machine differs slightly from that furnished the police by Shaffer. Lynch said the car was a dark green in color, while police here say the car was blue.

Police today are keeping a sharp lookout on places where suspects might loiter in an effort to pick up a clue as to the identity of the slayers. Police believe the car was taken by local talent.

AUTO IN CRASH; MAN MAY DIE

George J. Steinhouser, 30, of Massillon, was probably fatally hurt at 3 o'clock this morning when his automobile crashed into a milk stand on the Cox highway, about two miles west of Damascus.

Nearby residents, awakened by the crash, found Steinhouser unconscious. He was removed to the Salem hospital in an ambulance. His skull was fractured.

High School Girl A-1 in Attendance During Four Years

Miss Mary Moore, member of the 1925 graduating class and one of the Group A students, has added another honor to her high school record.

Although her home is beyond the city limits and it has been necessary for her to ride the Y. & O. cars to school, Miss Moore has not missed a day's session nor been tardy during her four-year course. She is a daughter of Mrs. Ella Moore, of Lincoln highway.

Thirty-nine other members of the high school had a perfect attendance and no tardy marks during the present term, Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal, announced today.

"Buddy Poppy" Sale Here Friday by Foreign War Vets

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Private Eddy Post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will continue their "Buddy Poppy" sale here Friday, the day preceding Memorial Day, Mrs. Laura Hughes, chairman of the committee in charge, announced today.

The veterans sold poppies on the streets last Saturday but owing to the school picnic, which called many out of the city, the sales were not as large as had been anticipated. An effort will be made to dispose of the remaining stock before Memorial Day.

The "Buddy poppy" is made by the disabled ex-service men at a Massachusetts factory. Headquarters for the day will be in the Little building.

Civil War Vets Will be Guests at Kiwanis Luncheon

Surviving members of General Lyon post No. 44, G. A. R., will be guests of the Kiwanis club at the noon luncheon in the Larkins annex, Market street, Thursday. This is in keeping with a movement to entertain the veterans each year at the meeting preceding Memorial day.

The veterans will meet in their hall, Fourth and Washington streets, and march to the restaurant. They will occupy places of honor at the table. The speaker will be Prof. M. J. Allmack, a member of the faculty of Mt. Union college. The attendance prize will be awarded by Secretary H. D. Hoffman.

CLEARING WEATHER RENEWS HOPE FOR AMUNDSEN-ELLSWORTH PARTY

North Pole Explorers Well Supplied With Food and Clothing to Make Safe Journey Back by Foot.

OSLO, Norway, May 27.—Clearing weather and bright skies in the polar region gave scientists and members of the Amudsen-Ellsworth party who are still at Spitzbergen renewed hope today that Amundsen and his five associates would return in safety from their North Pole flight.

A greater length of time must elapse, it was indicated by government officials, before there is sufficient apprehension on the part of the Norwegian government to ask the United States or any other outside agency to send searchers after Amundsen. It will be, they said, at least, several days more before the government will consider steps should be taken to determine what has happened to the Amundsen-Ellsworth flyers.

Great interest was displayed here in reports from the United States quoting Bernard Prentice, brother-in-law of Ellsworth, as saying that Ellsworth had said the party might go on to Alaska, if it succeeded in making a successful flight to the pole.

Scientists pointed out that Amundsen and his party were well supplied with food and clothing and would have every opportunity to make a safe journey back on foot in case of accident to the two airplanes.

Prestrud, one of Amundsen's colleagues of the South Pole expedition, said he had not given up hope and would not, even if several months passed without news. He recalled that three days were found necessary to fix the position of the South Pole. He believes, he said, that it would take a similar length of time to fix the position of the North Pole where conditions, he thinks, are more difficult.

Prestrud does not see why Amundsen should not overcome all difficulties, even if he has to march afoot as did Nansen.

FALL, SINCLAIR, DOHENY INDICTED

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and the oil magnates, E. L. Doheny, and Harry F. Sinclair, were indicted here again today by a federal grand jury for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in the California and Wyoming naval oil leases.

This is the second time the three men have been indicted on the same charge. The first indictment was dismissed by the district of Columbia supreme court because unauthorized persons were in the grand jury room, while the inquiry was being made.

The indictments are the outgrowth of the Senate oil lease investigation of a year ago.

"KING OF LAKE RUM RUNNERS" AND NINE OTHERS ARE CAPTURED

Armed Girl Among Prisoners Bagged After Shots are Fired at 42-foot Craft by Cutter.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 27.—Captain Ben Kerr, of Toronto, so-called "king of the lake rum runners," and eight other men and an armed girl, were captured early today following a chase of a 42-foot craft by a coast guard cutter.

Eight shots were fired from the government boat before Kerr brought his boat to a halt and surrendered. Only eight cases of Canadian ale were found on the boat, but hundreds of cases were thrown overboard by the runners in the attempt to escape.

Mae Davis, 25, of Webster, N. Y., dressed as a man, was arrested on shore by customs men who took a revolver from her pocket. She was one of the unloading detail, according to the officers.

Captain Kerr, according to federal officers, is the most daring rum runner on the lake. They have lain in wait for him the last three years, it was said.

Gov. Donahey Asks Hamilton Mayor to Oust Police Chief

COLUMBUS, May 27.—Governor Donahey today wrote Mayor Kelly, Hamilton, asking the mayor to remove Chief of Police Clements. The governor's action was based upon results of an investigation conducted by State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald and followed submission of affidavits to the governor, accusing Clements with laxity in enforcement of laws.

The governor pointed out that Clements had a right to appeal to the state civil service commission for reinstatement. It was claimed Clements was arrested at the Louisville, Ky., Derby races last week and was charged with possessing whisky illegally.

"ROTTEN, ROTTEN," SAYS THAW AFTER ANOTHER WILD NIGHT ON BROADWAY

There's No Comparison Between Times Now and Old Days, White's Slayer Tells Reporter.

BY DAVIS SENTNER.

(Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.)

NEW YORK, May 27.—"Rotten, rotten, rotten. That's how these times compared with the old days. Why, there's no comparison.'

Harry K. Thaw, speaking.

He leaned back wearily as the taxi-cab meandered through Central Park this morning in the sunrise of a new day. It followed a somewhat wild night along Broadway and through the "Roaring Forties"—perhaps the wildest evening Harry has spent since he wound up another wild one some 20 years ago by shooting Stanford White under the gilt Diana atop Madison Square Garden.

A few hours earlier, surrounded by a bevy of chorus girls in a night club, he had lifted his glass and said:

"The women weren't so beautiful in the old days. They were different, too.

INNOCENT PEDESTRIAN IS SHOT DOWN AS SIX FUGITIVES OPEN FIRE

East Liverpool Police Join With Cleveland Authorities in Search for Murderers Who Were in Machine, Owned by Charles M. Shaffer, Which Was Stolen Here Sunday Night.

REVOLVER DUEL WITH DETECTIVE FOLLOWS, BUT GUNMEN ESCAPE

Police Believe Shot That Killed Man on Sidewalk Was Intended for Occupant of House at Webster Avenue N. E. and East 13th Street in Forest City Monday.

Police today joined Cleveland authorities in an attempt to identify six men, believed to be from East Liverpool, who Monday night shot and killed William Stamford, 30, of 2507 Scoville avenue, Cleveland, and then fled in an automobile owned by Charles Shaffer, of Lincoln highway, which was stolen while parked near the First Baptist church, Sunday night.

Identification of the car in which the assailants were riding was established by means of the license number, which was taken while the gunmen were escaping from the scene of the murder. Chief of Police Jacob Graul, of Cleveland, yesterday asked Chief Hugh McDermott to ascertain the identity of the party to whom the license was issued.

Police here recognized the number furnished by Graul as the license number of the car stolen Sunday night and immediately advised the Cleveland police department head that the automobile had been stolen. Shaffer had parked the car in East alley, near the church, while he was attending services. When he left the church at 9:15 o'clock, the machine was gone.

According to the police, Stamford, the murder victim, was standing at the corner of East Thirteenth street and Webster avenue, Cleveland, Monday night when a large touring car, carrying 6 passengers, drove by. As the automobile passed him, the man seated beside the driver is said to have leaned from his seat and shot Stamford three times. He died almost immediately.

Bullets Pierce Back of Car.

Detective John Lynch was standing just a block away from the point where Stamford was shot down and attempted to halt the machine as it dashed past him. He called for the men to surrender and they answered with two shots from the car.

Lynch opened fire on the fleeing machine, two bullets piercing the back of the car. Another shot was returned by the fugitives. The detective commandeered another car and pursued the gunmen to East Twenty-third street and Webster avenue, where he lost the trail.

Cleveland police, who investigated the shooting, believe that the shots were intended for the occupant of the house near which Stamford was standing. They questioned the party to determine whether or not he had any known enemies, but he could throw no light on the affair. Lynch believes that the six strangers were intoxicated.

Suspect Local Men.

After the theft of the Shaffer car was reported to the local police Sunday night, a search was instituted. Roads leading out of the city were combed during the night and all day Monday, but no trace of the automobile was found. The car had been missing for approximately 24 hours when the murder took place.

The description of the machine differs slightly from that furnished the police by Shaffer. Lynch said the car was a dark green in color, while police here say the car was blue.

Police today are keeping a sharp lookout on places where suspects might loiter in an effort to pick up a clue as to the identity of the slayers. Police believe the car was taken by local talent.

KLAN AND FOES IN TWO CLASHES

Sound False Alarms of Fire After Meet in Massachusetts.

CLINTON, Mass., May 27.—Sounding of six false alarms of fire in various section of the city early today following a Ku Klux Klan meeting in Berlin and the mobilizing of the Clinton police, created great excitement in the town.

There were two clashes between klansmen and anti-klansmen, but no injuries were reported. The disturbance was the latest of a series of klan and anti-klan troubles in Worcester county.

As the klan meeting in Brewer field, Berlin, conducted with the burning of a cross, broke up, police were informed that the klansmen were going to parade through Clinton. Residents of Clinton were aroused by the repeated ringing of the fire alarms, but the klan parade failed to appear although two or three klan automobiles came into town.

Wild reports were circulated about the disturbances. One report to the police had it that a klan parade was attacked and scores injured, but later investigation showed this report to be untrue.

"Rotten," Says Thaw

No Justice Nowadays, He Says.

There was a sparkle in his eyes, then a laughter in his voice. Hitting the pace of other years and surrounded by scenes that were at least reminiscent, his mood was gay.

But in the taxicab in the chilly sunrise, it was different. He was not the dapper, the "Handsome Harry" of other years. His hair was white, his face ashen and old. And the sparkle of his eyes in the supper club had given way to a glaze.

"It's rotten, I tell you," he repeated dully. "Not like the old days."

"There's no justice nowadays. Courts are corrupt. Everything corrupt. Look at me. There should be a law against such a deal as I've gone through——"

His voice trailed off and he almost dozed.

Harry has been re-discovering Broadway, the scene of his earlier escapades, and the tinseled thoroughfare down which he strewd thousands on his way to a murder trial and two insanity trials. He abandoned the monotonous existence of a country squire and volunteer fireman in Winchester, Va., to come to New York to see how Broadway had changed in 20 years. He doesn't like the new one.

Attends "Girlie Revue."

In one of the supper clubs, to which the writer accompanied him, he was as usual, surrounded by a group of the girls. One of them, a petite beauty, scarcely out of her 'teens, leaned across the table and raising her glass, said saucily:

"Come here, Old Kokomo, and mamma'll kiss you."

"I don't like that," said Thaw.

Harry started out to see the town by having an early dinner at one of the supper clubs in the 'Forties.' Here the head waiter expects at least $10 for showing the patron to a table. Everything else is in proportion.

Then he attended a "girlie revue." He applauded frequently, but left before the final curtain.

"Not a soul recognized me," he said, somewhat triumphantly, and with just a note of sadness.

A round of various night clubs followed. He stayed away, however, from Tex Guinan's new club, because the publicity that attended his presence there the night before drew a lot of curiosity seekers.

Eludes Curiosity Seekers

Always, Harry was interested in the girls. He talked of them continually, and his eyes seldom left them.

One name came in frequently.

"That Fawn Gray girl," he said. "There's a peach for you."

Fawn was Harry's companion on his first excursion into the white lights the night before. She is wearing a diamond bracelet today. Harry tired of the supper clubs in the small hours, and accepted an invitation from Texas to come to her house in West Eighth street. He dozed for a time on the divan and left finally, forgetting his hat.

"Wanna ride," he said. The taxicab trip followed.

Harry has eluded some of those attracted by the glitter of his name and his bankroll by registering at several hotels and staying at a different one each night. It was to one of these that he repaired at 9 o'clock this morning.

Doctors are Using X-Ray in Treatment Of Whooping Cough

ATLANTIC CITY, May 27.—X-Ray is being used successfully in the treatment of whooping cough, infants can be cured of rickets by feeding them certain foods treated by sun rays or X-Rays, and scarlet fever can be prevented and cured by a new anti-toxin, speakers told the American Medical association's convention here today.

Dr. Lawrence W. Smith, of Boston, said that X-Ray can shorten the duration and lessen the severity of whooping cough. Rickets is due to a lack of vitamin, which can be supplied by natural or artificial means said Dr. Alfred F. Hess, New York city.

Dr. W. S. Park of New York, told fo the new scarlet fever anti-toxin. The need of more rigid and general meat inspection was urged on the convention by Dr. W. H. Lipman of Chicago. Physicians should fight to prevent any but optometrists obtaining sole legal right to fit eyeglasses, said Dr. James M. Patton of Omaha.

Successful treatment of infantile paralysis by means of frequent punctures of the spianl column were described by Dr. J. C. Montgomery of Detroit.

The commission announced that travelers on railroads would be given an opportunity to apply for changes of modifications in rules and regulations governing the issue, sale and use of the coupon tickets.

Prisoner's Attack On Jail Roaches Causes Fire Alarm

Efforts of a prisoner to exterminate roaches, which have been habitating the city jail, was responsible for a fire alarm about 8:10 o'clock last evening.

One of the prisoners set fire to a pile of waste paper in which dozens of roaches were in hiding. The blaze got beyond his control and Desk Sergeant Norman McFarland, fearing that the building was in danger, summoned the fire department.

The blaze, however, had been extinguished before the arrival of the fire laddies. There was no damage.

THREE SOFIA PLOTTERS DIE

Chief Perpetrators of Cathedral Tragedy are Hanged.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 27.—The three principal perpetrators of the Sveti Kral cathedral tragedy, Zadgorsky, Friedmann and Colonel Koeff, were hanged at 6 o'clock this morning.

The military court condemned to death the French woman, Madame Mallet Nicolova, the Swiss citizen, Leges, and the agrarian, Perchemlieff, who were charged with having sheltered the cathedral bombers who caused the death of approximately 160 persons in a plot to overthrow the Bulgarian government.

The wife of Leges and a son of Madame Nicolova were sentenced to life imprisonment.

The hangings were held publicly. A cordon of police and soldiers surrounded the gallows to keep back the crowds, which were immense. It seemed as though the entire city had turned out to see the executions.

Volunteers were called to act as hangmen. No one volunteered. The authorities then summoned Jypsy Demir, who is the veteran hangman, to carry out the lethal task.

Boy, With Grain Of Corn in Throat, Awaits Operation

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Weakened by the long journey here from Dade City, Fla., John O. Coleman, 6, who was rushed to the University of Pennsylvania hospital to have a grain of corn removed from his throat, was in too critical condition today to undergo the operation.

X-ray pictures taken late yesterday, when it was erroneously reported at the hospital that a successful operation had been performed, showed the grain of corn had become enlarged, physicians announced.

Hospital attaches were unable to say when young Coleman's condition will permit the operation.

Harvey Blackmar, 3, of South Bend, Ind., was operated on yesterday and a peanut removed from his throat with a bronchoscope, an instrument invented by Dr. Chevalier Jackson. This gave rise to the false report of an operation on Coleman.

When the evidence was brought in and placed near the rod, the latter began to do a shimmy in the hands of Thomason. The court was convinced, Hammon was fined $50 and sent to jail for thirty days.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 27.—Motor stocks and high-priced industrials led the market in a moderate rally in the early trading today. A number of the independent oils and public utilities shares resumed the upward movement at the points where they were last Friday and Saturday, the horizontal price advance in wholesale and retail gasoline being a stimulating factor in the former group. Forward movements also took place in practically all of the industrial leaders, including Gulf States, American Can, General Electric, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, Baldwin Locomotive, Texas Gulf, Sulphur, etc. The elimination of a large volume of profit-taking sales in the two previous sessions of the week, and the heavy short existing in industrial and motor shares presented a good back ground for speculative buying, to which also the easy situation in the money market, the generally satisfactory condition of trade and industry also contributed.

Most of the active motor stocks were whipped along to higher price levels under the aggressive leadership of Studebaker. This stock sold above 49 for the first time since the split up of the stock last year. Trading was unusually heavy in this stock. Maxwell B. struck another note in its sensational advance by selling for the first time at $100 a share. General Motors, Chandler, Mack Trucks, Stromberg Carburetor, Continental Motors, Paige Detroit, Packard, Jordan and other active motor stocks advanced in good form to the highest prices on the movement.

PRESBYTERIANS AVOID SPLIT

Protest Follows Gantz Decision—1926 Meet in Baltimore.

COLUMBUS, May 27.— Leaders of the Presbyterian church, cheered by clearing skies in the raging doctrinal controversy, today acted to avoid steps which would lead to a split in the church as a result of the Gantz decision yesterday.

Bitter threats of modernist New York leaders that the wealthy and powerful metropolitan church would break with the main church body, resulted only in vigorous protests by the modernists against the judicial commission's ruling that complete faith in the virgin birth is an essential qualification for licensure as a Presbyterian minister.

A break has been averted for a year at least by the action of the general assembly in ordering investigation of the whole modernist-fundamentalist controversy by a special commission, Dr. Coffin admitted.

Hints that the battle might reach the civil courts were given by Dr. Coffin.

Signatures to the statement of protest against the judicial commission decision represented commissioners from New York city and state, as well as from Chicago and Illinois. St. Louis and Missouri and from New Jersey, Montana, Minnesota, Wyoming and Iowa.

The general assembly was dissolved at noon. The 1926 general assembly will meet in Baltimore, Md.

City Solons Confer With County Auditor On Eighth St. Job

Members of the finance committee of the city council, Auditor William McGraw and Solicitor Harry Brokaw conferred with County Auditor Charles Hamilton and L. H. Johnson, clerk of the board of county commissioners, at Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, relative to the proposed West Eighth street improvement.

Council at their meeting last Friday deferred action on the proposed West Eighth street improvement pending an investigation as to the city's authority to issue bonds to meet the municipality's share of the cost of the proposed improvement.

The township trustees have promised to grade and hard-surface Shadyside avenue immediately if the city will widen and resurface West Eighth street from the West End school to the city limits. County authorities declare this proposition to be the most liberal ever made in "trade off" construction work in this county for several years.

KLAN AND FOES IN TWO CLASHES

Sound False Alarms of Fire After Meet in Massachusetts.

CLINTON, Mass., May 27.—Sounding of six false alarms of fire in various section of the city early today following a Ku Klux Klan meeting in Berlin and the mobilizing of the Clinton police, created great excitement in the town.

There were two clashes between klansmen and anti-klansmen, but no injuries were reported. The disturbance was the latest of a series of klan and anti-klan troubles in Worcester county.

As the klan meeting in Brewer field, Berlin, conducted with the burning of a cross, broke up, police were informed that the klansmen were going to parade through Clinton. Residents of Clinton were aroused by the repeated ringing of the fire alarms, but the klan parade failed to appear although two or three klan automobiles came into town.

Wild reports were circulated about the disturbances. One report to the police had it that a klan parade was attacked and scores injured, but later investigation showed this report to be untrue.

"Rotten," Says Thaw

No Justice Nowadays, He Says.

There was a sparkle in his eyes, then a laughter in his voice. Hitting the pace of other years and surrounded by scenes that were at least reminiscent, his mood was gay.

But in the taxicab in the chilly sunrise, it was different. He was not the dapper, the "Handsome Harry" of other years. His hair was white, his face ashen and old. And the sparkle of his eyes in the supper club had given way to a glaze.

"It's rotten, I tell you," he repeated dully. "Not like the old days."

"There's no justice nowadays. Courts are corrupt. Everything corrupt. Look at me. There should be a law against such a deal as I've gone through——"

His voice trailed off and he almost dozed.

Harry has been re-discovering Broadway, the scene of his earlier escapades, and the tinseled thoroughfare down which he strewd thousands on his way to a murder trial and two insanity trials. He abandoned the monotonous existence of a country squire and volunteer fireman in Winchester, Va., to come to New York to see how Broadway had changed in 20 years. He doesn't like the new one.

Attends "Girlie Revue."

In one of the supper clubs, to which the writer accompanied him, he was as usual, surrounded by a group of the girls. One of them, a petite beauty, scarcely out of her 'teens, leaned across the table and raising her glass, said saucily:

"Come here, Old Kokomo, and mamma'll kiss you."

"I don't like that," said Thaw.

Harry started out to see the town by having an early dinner at one of the supper clubs in the 'Forties.' Here the head waiter expects at least $10 for showing the patron to a table. Everything else is in proportion.

Then he attended a "girlie revue." He applauded frequently, but left before the final curtain.

"Not a soul recognized me," he said, somewhat triumphantly, and with just a note of sadness.

A round of various night clubs followed. He stayed away, however, from Tex Guinan's new club, because the publicity that attended his presence there the night before drew a lot of curiosity seekers.

Eludes Curiosity Seekers

Always, Harry was interested in the girls. He talked of them continually, and his eyes seldom left them.

One name came in frequently.

"That Fawn Gray girl," he said. "There's a peach for you."

Fawn was Harry's companion on his first excursion into the white lights the night before. She is wearing a diamond bracelet today. Harry tired of the supper clubs in the small hours, and accepted an invitation from Texas to come to her house in West Eighth street. He dozed for a time on the divan and left finally, forgetting his hat.

"Wanna ride," he said. The taxicab trip followed.

Harry has eluded some of those attracted by the glitter of his name and his bankroll by registering at several hotels and staying at a different one each night. It was to one of these that he repaired at 9 o'clock this morning.

Doctors are Using X-Ray in Treatment Of Whooping Cough

ATLANTIC CITY, May 27.—X-Ray is being used successfully in the treatment of whooping cough, infants can be cured of rickets by feeding them certain foods treated by sun rays or X-Rays, and scarlet fever can be prevented and cured by a new anti-toxin, speakers told the American Medical association's convention here today.

Dr. Lawrence W. Smith, of Boston, said that X-Ray can shorten the duration and lessen the severity of whooping cough. Rickets is due to a lack of vitamin, which can be supplied by natural or artificial means said Dr. Alfred F. Hess, New York city.

Dr. W. S. Park of New York, told fo the new scarlet fever anti-toxin. The need of more rigid and general meat inspection was urged on the convention by Dr. W. H. Lipman of Chicago. Physicians should fight to prevent any but optometrists obtaining sole legal right to fit eyeglasses, said Dr. James M. Patton of Omaha.

U. S. Board Orders Interchangeable Railroad Tickets

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The interstate commerce commission today ordered the railroads to issue interchangeable scrip coupon tickets in denominations of $15, $30 and $90, to be sold at the standard rate of passenger fare for one way trips.

The order becomes effective July 15, 1925.

Railroads which at present issue or honor interchangeable scrip coupon tickets under rules and regulations they have established, are required to continue the same in effect until further order of the commission.

Those roads which do not issue or honor at present such tickets and which are now required to do so were directed by the commission.

The commission announced that travelers on railroads would be given an opportunity to apply for changes of modifications in rules and regulations governing the issue, sale and use of the coupon tickets.

Prisoner's Attack On Jail Roaches Causes Fire Alarm

Efforts of a prisoner to exterminate roaches, which have been habitating the city jail, was responsible for a fire alarm about 8:10 o'clock last evening.

One of the prisoners set fire to a pile of waste paper in which dozens of roaches were in hiding. The blaze got beyond his control and Desk Sergeant Norman McFarland, fearing that the building was in danger, summoned the fire department.

The blaze, however, had been extinguished before the arrival of the fire laddies. There was no damage.

THREE SOFIA PLOTTERS DIE

Chief Perpetrators of Cathedral Tragedy are Hanged.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 27.—The three principal perpetrators of the Sveti Kral cathedral tragedy, Zadgorsky, Friedmann and Colonel Koeff, were hanged at 6 o'clock this morning.

The military court condemned to death the French woman, Madame Mallet Nicolova, the Swiss citizen, Leges, and the agrarian, Perchemlieff, who were charged with having sheltered the cathedral bombers who caused the death of approximately 160 persons in a plot to overthrow the Bulgarian government.

The wife of Leges and a son of Madame Nicolova were sentenced to life imprisonment.

The hangings were held publicly. A cordon of police and soldiers surrounded the gallows to keep back the crowds, which were immense. It seemed as though the entire city had turned out to see the executions.

Volunteers were called to act as hangmen. No one volunteered. The authorities then summoned Jypsy Demir, who is the veteran hangman, to carry out the lethal task.

Boy, With Grain Of Corn in Throat, Awaits Operation

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Weakened by the long journey here from Dade City, Fla., John O. Coleman, 6, who was rushed to the University of Pennsylvania hospital to have a grain of corn removed from his throat, was in too critical condition today to undergo the operation.

X-ray pictures taken late yesterday, when it was erroneously reported at the hospital that a successful operation had been performed, showed the grain of corn had become enlarged, physicians announced.

Hospital attaches were unable to say when young Coleman's condition will permit the operation.

Harvey Blackmar, 3, of South Bend, Ind., was operated on yesterday and a peanut removed from his throat with a bronchoscope, an instrument invented by Dr. Chevalier Jackson. This gave rise to the false report of an operation on Coleman.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 27.—Motor stocks and high-priced industrials led the market in a moderate rally in the early trading today. A number of the independent oils and public utilities shares resumed the upward movement at the points where they were last Friday and Saturday, the horizontal price advance in wholesale and retail gasoline being a stimulating factor in the former group. Forward movements also took place in practically all of the industrial leaders, including Gulf States, American Can, General Electric, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, Baldwin Locomotive, Texas Gulf, Sulphur, etc. The elimination of a large volume of profit-taking sales in the two previous sessions of the week, and the heavy short existing in industrial and motor shares presented a good back ground for speculative buying, to which also the easy situation in the money market, the generally satisfactory condition of trade and industry also contributed.

Most of the active motor stocks were whipped along to higher price levels under the aggressive leadership of Studebaker. This stock sold above 49 for the first time since the split up of the stock last year. Trading was unusually heavy in this stock. Maxwell B. struck another note in its sensational advance by selling for the first time at $100 a share. General Motors, Chandler, Mack Trucks, Stromberg Carburetor, Continental Motors, Paige Detroit, Packard, Jordan and other active motor stocks advanced in good form to the highest prices on the movement.

PRESBYTERIANS AVOID SPLIT

Protest Follows Gantz Decision—1926 Meet in Baltimore.

COLUMBUS, May 27.— Leaders of the Presbyterian church, cheered by clearing skies in the raging doctrinal controversy, today acted to avoid steps which would lead to a split in the church as a result of the Gantz decision yesterday.

Bitter threats of modernist New York leaders that the wealthy and powerful metropolitan church would break with the main church body, resulted only in vigorous protests by the modernists against the judicial commission's ruling that complete faith in the virgin birth is an essential qualification for licensure as a Presbyterian minister.

A break has been averted for a year at least by the action of the general assembly in ordering investigation of the whole modernist-fundamentalist controversy by a special commission, Dr. Coffin admitted.

Hints that the battle might reach the civil courts were given by Dr. Coffin.

Signatures to the statement of protest against the judicial commission decision represented commissioners from New York city and state, as well as from Chicago and Illinois, St. Louis and Missouri and from New Jersey, Montana, Minnesota, Wyoming and Iowa.

The general assembly was dissolved at noon. The 1926 general assembly will meet in Baltimore, Md.

City Solons Confer With County Auditor On Eighth St. Job

Members of the finance committee of the city council, Auditor William McGraw and Solicitor Harry Brokaw conferred with County Auditor Charles Hamilton and L. H. Johnson, clerk of the board of county commissioners, at Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, relative to the proposed West Eighth street improvement.

Council at their meeting last Friday deferred action on the proposed West Eighth street improvement pending an investigation as to the city's authority to issue bonds to meet the municipality's share of the cost of the proposed improvement.

The township trustees have promised to grade and hard-surface Shadyside avenue immediately if the city will widen and resurface West Eighth street from the West End school to the city limits. County authorities declare this proposition to be the most liberal ever made in "trade off" construction work in this county for several years.

Aged Mariner Sails Sea In Tiny Dory For Thrill

Com. Maude, 77, Tempts Fate n Journey to England in 25-foot Craft.

VICTORIA, B. C.—Commander Eustace B. Maude, formerly an officer in the royal navy, is seventy-seven years of age, but he is still young enough to seek a thrill. On May 2 he left Victoria in his twenty five-foot dory, the Half Moon, on a cruise to England, with a complete set of Shakespeare as his only companion.

Commander Maude, who stands over six feet and is still fairly nimble, has been enjoying life on the Pacific slope for some years. During the past Winter his sealegs got itchy to feel a heaving deck beneath them, so he sent his wife and daughter off to England by the usual means of transportation and then proceeded to fit out his craft. The Half Moon has two masts and a small auxiliary engine and is jammed full of stores, water and gasoline.

Commander Maude refused to leave behind his armchair, which he has lashed in the cockpit, so that he can sit there when the weather is fine, smoke his pipe and read "The Merchant of Venice" or some other Shakesperean play.

The ancient mariner is in no way alarmed over the long journey. He says he will take things easy and hopes to reach England in less than four months. He refuses to skirt the coast on the way to Panama, believing he will be safer by running well offshore and then turning southward. After passing through the Panama Canal he will head through the Gulf of Mexico and northwestward across the Atlantic.

The commander was given a big send-off when he left Victoria, but many shook their heads at the wisdom of the effort.

A German officer has designed an aero dynamo, driven by a propeller, to provide electricity on farms.

Modern Man Healthier Than Ancestors View Of Herbert C. Hooks

CHICAGO—Despite the theory that luxury, lack of exercise and the invention of work-reducing devices are making modern man a pampered weakling, he is actually bigger in stature, healthier and stronger physically than were his ancestors, according to Herbert C. Hooks, secretary of the Evaporated Milk association, in an address here.

The First and Original Cold and Grip Tablet

Thousands Endorse World's Tonic

When hundreds of your own townspeople are loud in the praise of the World's Tonic, why do you continue to go about half dead?

It's a wonderful medicine for people who have run down in health, because it arouses and energizes every function of the body, removes the clogging congestion that we call catarrh, and sets up a circulation of good rich blood that speedily repairs and strengthens the organs.

Made This Man Well.

York Slim, who lives at 939 N. Sixth street, Steubenville, is a fair example nothing he ate agreed with him, and he seemed to be carrying a load in his stomach all the time. Mornings he had a bitter taste in his mouth, felt tired and generally wretched. Let him tell it.

"I got a bottle of World's Tonic from my druggist, Carnahan's. Before I had taken half of it I noticed a change. I began to enjoy my meals. When I had taken a bottle I knew I was on the right course. The third bottle finished the job, and I am well. You cannot know how grateful I am — and I never fail to tell my friends of the value of this remarkable medicine. It's great."

Try it for youself. That's the best proof in the world—and when you are well you will be as enthusiastic as Mr. Slim.

For sale at Carnahan's, also Brannan's, Wellsville, and all other good druggists.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1925.

A Good Business Proposition

Acceptance of the four-cornered proposal for the improvement of the "mud hole" link between the improved section of West Eighth street and paved strip of the East Liverpool-Wellsville road as well as the improvement of Shadyside avenue, which is part of the Campground road, rests with the municipal council.

The action of the finance committee of the legislative body, now investigating the question, shall determine whether East Liverpool accepts or rejects a gift of $55,000, for the county commissioners have promised $20,000, the Liverpool township trustees a like amount and the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company $15,000.

In return for this, the city will invest approximately $40,000, of which $10,000 will be taken from the street maintenance fund which is derived from the sale of automobile licenses.

It is a good business proposition for the city, approved by the service director and all good road boosters, and should be accepted.

Wives and Checks

A bill introduced in the Florida legislature requires the joint signature of husband and wife, or the endorsement of the wife, to make a bank check or draft valid. A bank cashing a check for a husband without the wife's signature or endorsement may be compelled to pay the wife, also, the full amount of the check.

All kinds of bills are poured into legislative hoppers. The Florida legislature has another bill pending which would make it unlawful to call any Florida girl a "flapper." Legislatures, however, are usually rather sensible on the whole, whatever may be the vagaries of individual members.

A measure of this kind evidently aims to serve a good purpose. Many wives suffer because of financial difficulties caused by husbands cashing and spending their pay checks or checking out family money and using it selfishly. But it doesn't follow that this is the way to remedy the evil. The plan proposed would make an enormous amount of confusion and difficulty in the handling of checks, and impose an unnecessary burden on banks.

Acting

"Everybody wants to act," says a dramatic instructor.

Many people will deny it, yet perhaps he is right. The present vogue for amateur dramatics seems to uphold him. In nearly every American city there are volunteer companies putting on plays of one kind or another, at least once a year, and in dozens of cities there are amateurs producing standard plays over a more or less extended season, and doing it well. Many a man or woman, in such dramatics, has only discovered in middle life what thrill and pleasure there is in stage-acting.

There is something of the dramatic, no doubt, in all of us, and there may be unsuspected talent in many of us. It is possible that there are men and women who have never spoken a line on the stage who were better fitted by nature for the histrionic art than our most famous professionals. There may be mute, inglorious Irvings, Mansfields and Marlowes as well as Miltons.

Ford As a Shipping Magnate

It would be good news that Henry Ford wanted to take over a lot of the government's merchant marine—if he would use it. It would be a relief to the government merely to have a few hundred of those ships off its hands. Some of them are engaged in losing traffic; most of them are moored in out-of-the-way harbors, like idle horses in stalls, deteriorating and "eating their heads off." If Mr. Ford would put all the sound ones to practical use and only eliminate the worst, it would be a fine public service.

It is not certain that Mr. Ford could succeed in the ocean shipping trade as he has in the automobile and railroad business. He is hardly an industrial and commercial demigod. Sooner or later, he will tackle something for which he is not big enough. But so far he has had no failures, and the public has more faith in him than in any other captain of industry.

He is in the shipping business already, to a small extent, operating his own vessels for the distribution of his cars to foreign countries. He could use quite a few more ships for that purpose. He might be able to succeed in the general shipping business, in spite of competition. For the great thing about Mr. Ford is that he is a trail-blazer. With a lot of ships in his hands, he might start in to get or make business for them, opening new trade routes and using new methods, and so stimulating the whole system of water transportation.

The danger is that if he gets those 400 ships he is said to be dickering for, he may junk too many of them, to give the rest a better chance. One of these times all the seaworthy ones may be needed.

A straight-forward, democratic American will be spoiled if people don't stop talking about that Iowa citizen who butted in and shook hands with King George.

Of course all this flying is practical and safe and everything, but every time a dirigible gets back to the hanger everybody just naturally heaves a sigh of relief and thanksgiving.

Noise, says Edison, is necessary in this busy world. Maybe it is—for a deaf man like Edison.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 27. — Every few days there is a moving drama of gold on the streets of New York. Passers-by see those those armored trucks laden with millions and give only a hurrying thought. The trucks move from subtreasury to banks or from bank to bank as though a casual part of the passing parade.

They are flanked about on all sides by motor cycle police who with guns strapped in plain view cut a path through the traffic tides. Few realize the intricacies of the amazing precautions taken to guard the vast hoards.

No driver or guard knows until a few moments before a truck is to move that he has been selected for the trip and even during that brief interim until the start is made he is under constant surveillance.

On the theory that no chain is stronger than its weakest link even those who give orders to the drivers and guards where they shall stop and through what streets they will pass get their orders just shortly before they pass them along.

These men are, of course, all carefully selected and trusted but in a city where gunmen are always tuned up for the adventurous foray no chance is taken of a careless word here or there reaching ears cupped for violence.

The windows through which the drivers look cannot be pierced by a 45 calibre bullet. Armored vests are worn. Sometimes a driver is given his route and three blocks along he is suddenly ordered to take another course.

Once on a downtown street a brick was hurled at an armored truck. Three motor cycle policemen shot out of line for the chase. They were whistled back. It might have been a "plant" to get the motor cycle guards out of the way for a massed attack. gle brick could do no harm. Four millions were at stake and a sin-

Touching on robbers and such a gentleman on West 75th street awakened recently to find his apaartment aalmost stripped. He telephoned to his business associates he would be late to the office.

"Burglars broke into my apartment," he said.

"Did they get anything?"

"Get anything?" he shouted. "They lifted everything but my wife's face."

He is one of those social butterflies. No money but marvelous manners. Like the rest of his ilk he is known by that vague designation of being "in the street." He is adept at tea table chatter, dances divinely and wears a wing collar with blue polka dot bow tie for afternoon. Also a wisp of a mustache that flappers class as "perfectly priceless." He happened to be seated next to a plump, middle-aged woman from the middle west at a smart dinner.

"What," he inquired, "do you middle westerners think of our exotic and orchidaceouus type of debutante?"

"We are too busy teaching our daughters to keep house, sew and cook to give it much thought," she said.

Will will be the next celebrity for New York to take up? Last year it was Lady Diana Manners. This year it was Michael Arlen. Neither came here expecting the concentrated rush that fairly swept them off their feet. Arlen had not been in town a day before he was forced to shut off his phone and later had to move to another floor of the hotel to avoid the stampede of the curious in the hallways who were waiting for just a peep at the man who made London's Mayfair well enough known for movie captions.

II—The Riffian Revolt.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Morocco, prior to 1914, had been a storm petrel in European politics. Statesmen viewed it apprehensively and believed it would be the cause of the next European war. The Moroccan question loomed in 1905 and again in 1911 as a fuse which might strike off the bomb of armed conflict.

For years the old Shereefian empire, but a vestige of that glorious civilization spread by the adherents of the screscent in their world crusade, had been in a decadent state. Yet Morocco remained indpedentent of European intereference because of the energy of a few Sultans who jealously guarded their heritage. Sulton Moulai Hassan was one of these.

To the East, however, the white man had vigorously asserted himself. Franc, recovering from the blows it had suffered in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries had invested Algeria and Tunisia. The French landed in Algeria about the year 1830 and commenced to colonize it. They were successful and proceeded to penetrate the recesses of the dessert.

There was, however, a fly in the colonial ointment for the French, Morocco, rich and unexploited, lay in invisong posture just next door. Here were vast reserves of mineral and

A Good Business Proposition

Acceptance of the four-cornered proposal for the improvement of the "mud hole" link between the improved section of West Eighth street and paved strip of the East Liverpool-Wellsville road as well as the improvement of Shadyside avenue, which is part of the Campground road, rests with the municipal council.

The action of the finance committee of the legislative body, now investigating the question, shall determine whether East Liverpool accepts or rejects a gift of $55,000, for the county commissioners have promised $20,000, the Liverpool township trustees a like amount and the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company $15,000.

In return for this, the city will invest approximately $40,000, of which $10,000 will be taken from the street maintenance fund which is derived from the sale of automobile licenses.

It is a good business proposition for the city, approved by the service director and all good road boosters, and should be accepted.

Wives and Checks

A bill introduced in the Florida legislature requires the joint signature of husband and wife, or the endorsement of the wife, to make a bank check or draft valid. A bank cashing a check for a husband without the wife's signature or endorsement may be compelled to pay the wife, also, the full amount of the check.

All kinds of bills are poured into legislative hoppers. The Florida legislature has another bill pending which would make it unlawful to call any Florida girl a "flapper." Legislatures, however, are usually rather sensible on the whole, whatever may be the vagaries of individual members.

Ox Takes Commands In Three Languages; Fond of Children

BOSTON—The "kiddies" of the Hub have a new pet in Tom, a giant ox, who weighs more than 3,000 pounds.

And Tom can understand commands in three languages—Italian, German and middle west—according to his driver, "Big Bill" Farris.

When Tom goes along the street it brings back scenes of the covered wagon days.

The big bovine animal, Farris asserted, is as playful as a kitten and fond of children.

Born in Italy, Tom may be said to have been "educated" in Germany, and he reached adolescence in the American middle west. He is used largely for street and fair exhibitino purposes.

LEMONS BLEACH THE SKIN WHITE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

RAIDS CONDUCTED IN BROOKE COUNTY

Brooke county authorities aided by state police were busily engaged yesterday in Wellsburg, Follansbee and Colliers. For the most part, they confined their efforts to uncovering alleged violations of the national prohibition law.

Harry Cox of Follansbee, is confined to the Brooke county jail at Wellsburg pending a hearing before Squire A. B. Collett on a charge of transporting contraband. He was apprehended yesterday morning at Cross Creek, near Follansbee, with ten gallons of moonshine in a new automobile.

State police stationed at the mine settlement raided the home of Mrs. Fred Roach of Colliers and found between 20 and 30 bottles of what they said was beer. She was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Brown Lattimer at Follansbee, found guilty of possession of the brew and sentenced to serve 30 days and pay a fine of $100 and costs. An appeal was taken by her attorney and she was released under $500 bond for appearance before the June grand jury.

Charged with attempting to evade payment of his board bill, Albert Horner of Wellsburg, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the complaint of Mrs. Eliza Alleman. The plaintiff contended that her boarder owed her $199 for services rendered, food served and room occupied. The case will be heard today in Squire Jacob's court.

Middle Aged Italian Walks Eighteen Days For Papal Blessing

ROME, May.—In this Holy Year it is no uncommon sight to see pilgrims arriving at Rome on foot, in the good old way, avoiding trains and other modern forms of transportations.

Quite recently a middle-aged man walked to Rome from Desio, in Lombardy, birthplace of the present Pope. He was following a family tradition, for his grand-father walked to Rome during the Holy Year of 1895, his father during that of 1900, and the present pilgrim had vowed that he would follow in the family tradition.

The journey took eighteen dayse. In imitation of St. Francis, this Lombard pilgrim set out with no money in his purse, relying on chance hospitality.

Woman Suffrage For France Is Winning Many Supporters

Enfranchisement is Delayed by Senate Refusal—Chamber Has Approved Measure.

PARIS.—"A woman's hand was meant to receive a kiss rather than the voting ballot," declared Monsieur Maupoil, deputy of the Saone-et-Loire department, during the recent discussion of the suffrage law before the chamber of Deputies.

Nearly every Frenchman is convinced that feminine suffrage should be established in France because it is just and legitimate, and furthermore has brought about good results in every country where women are voting today. The Chamber has consented to grant the vote by a large majority, but the senate still refuses to pass the law. In the meantime, everyone is talking and writing about the question.

"Look about the countries where the women vote," writes Andre Lichtenberger, in the Paris Soir, "and you will see that politics has not been greatly modified; but always alcoholism and prostitution have decreased, and infantile mortality, as well as mortality in general, have diminished and public hygiene has made great strides."

The average Frenchman believes in the theory that "the hand that rocks the cradle" cannot and ought not to do much else. He deplores the evolution that takes women away from her chief function—maternity—and believes that it means farewell to marriage, family and foyer.

RAIDS CONDUCTED IN BROOKE COUNTY

Brooke county authorities aided by state police were busily engaged yesterday in Wellsburg, Follansbee and Colliers. For the most part, they confined their efforts to uncovering alleged violations of the national prohibition law.

Harry Cox of Follansbee, is confined to the Brooke county jail at Wellsburg pending a hearing before Squire A. B. Collett on a charge of transporting contraband. He was apprehended yesterday morning at Cross Creek, near Follansbee, with ten gallons of moonshine in a new automobile.

State police stationed at the mine settlement raided the home of Mrs. Fred Roach of Colliers and found between 20 and 30 bottles of what they said was beer. She was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Brown Lattimer at Follansbee, found guilty of possession of the brew and sentenced to serve 30 days and pay a fine of $100 and costs. An appeal was taken by her attorney and she was released under $500 bond for appearance before the June grand jury.

Charged with attempting to evade payment of his board bill, Albert Horner of Wellsburg, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the complaint of Mrs. Eliza Alleman. The plaintiff contended that her boarder owed her $199 for services rendered, food served and room occupied. The case will be heard today in Squire Jacob's court.

Middle Aged Italian Walks Eighteen Days For Papal Blessing

ROME, May.—In this Holy Year it is no uncommon sight to see pilgrims arriving at Rome on foot, in the good old way, avoiding trains and other modern forms of transportations.

Quite recently a middle-aged man walked to Rome from Desio, in Lombardy, birthplace of the present Pope. He was following a family tradition, for his grand-father walked to Rome during the Holy Year of 1895, his father during that of 1900, and the present pilgrim had vowed that he would follow in the family tradition.

The journey took eighteen dayse. In imitation of St. Francis, this Lombard pilgrim set out with no money in his purse, relying on chance hospitality.

Woman Suffrage For France Is Winning Many Supporters

Enfranchisement is Delayed by Senate Refusal—Chamber Has Approved Measure.

PARIS.—"A woman's hand was meant to receive a kiss rather than the voting ballot," declared Monsieur Maupoil, deputy of the Saone-et-Loire department, during the recent discussion of the suffrage law before the chamber of Deputies.

Nearly every Frenchman is convinced that feminine suffrage should be established in France because it is just and legitimate, and furthermore has brought about good results in every country where women are voting today. The Chamber has consented to grant the vote by a large majority, but the senate still refuses to pass the law. In the meantime, everyone is talking and writing about the question.

"Look about the countries where the women vote," writes Andre Lichtenberger, in the Paris Soir, "and you will see that politics has not been greatly modified; but always alcoholism and prostitution have decreased, and infantile mortality, as well as mortality in general, have diminished and public hygiene has made great strides."

Polly and Her Pals By Cliff Sterrett

Experience of Mrs. Fuller

"My health has improved wonderfully," says Mrs. T. H. Fuller, of Walpole, N. H., "since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For months I was in such pain that I could not work, but thanks to this splendid medicine I am now strong enough to do all my own work and have two dear babies to care for besides. I want to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to women who are weak, run down and nervous."

Prince Sees Peril To World in East; Offers Solution

LONDON, May.—"Western countries are blind to the great danger which is inevitably coming out of the Far East," says Prince Habib Lotfallah, European Envoy of the King of the Hedjaz.

"New civilization and culture are being born in China and in Far East Russia. That civilization must move westward. A struggle must inevitably arise between the Occident and the Orient.'

Prince Habib's solution of the difficulty is the creation of a United Stataes of Arabia as a buffer state. This cannot be furhered by the Zionist movement, he maintains.

"Zionism entails and need of all possible unity in Arabia," he declared. "Let my country work out its salvation, and we shall have Christians, Jews and Moselms living together in amity in the land which is the birthplace of the three religions,, the home of Judaism, the cradle of Christianitq and the heart of the Moslem faith."

Prince Habib is a lineal descendant of the King of Antioch, who ruled in Syria two thousand years ago. The Prince denied rumors that he is to be proclaimed King of Syria.

Peace and Quiet Go Together, Declares Builder in Address

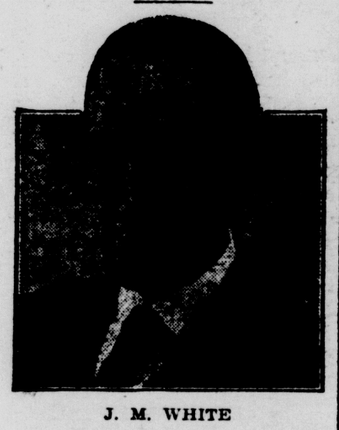
CHICAGO, May.—A noisy home is usually a quarrelsome home. Quiet surroundings increase mental poise from 30 to 50 per cent. A home against the walls and ceilings of which every word uttered does not reverberate means ordinarily a peaceful family. That is what Jacob Mazer, accustical engineer, told a group of students here.

"The discovery of sound deadening properties in synthetic lumber made of sugar cane fibre, or bagasse, has brought about increased interest in building circles in the relation of noise to efficicency," he said. "Tests made in both homes and business of fices where this new material has been used show that the percentage of both efficiency and morale is higher."

Rirearms are important accessories of moving picture production, and one studio boasts 1,200 rifles and 400 pistols and revolvers.

IVY POISONING AFFECTED HIS ENTIRE SYSTEM

Morgantown Real Estate Dealer Receives Relief from Distressing Condition by Use of Ka-di-ok.



J. M. WHITE

Mr. J. M. White, a real estate dealer, with offices at 600 Monongahela Building, Morgantown, W. Va., suffered from stomach trouble. He had a severe case of ivy poisoning, and his hands and arms were badly affected. This latter condition augmented his stomach trouble, and his general condition became sort of unusual.

He was induced by a friend to try Ka-di-ok, the herbal system toner, and after taking two bottles, he declared to a Ka-di-ok representative that the results were "very good indeed, and Ka-di-ok is a wonder. It seemed to stop that poisoned condition and its spreading; it took complete charge of my body and made it well." These are the words used by Mr. White.

Ka-di-ok did as above described because it is a remedy which, when taken, goes to the seat of the trouble. It is laxative in action, pleasing in its results. Not only does it act in all stomach ailments caused by indigestion, flatulency, constipation, etc., but also acts upon the kidneys and liver, is indicated for rheumatism, loss of appetite, headache, nervous disorders, bad blood, and auto-intoxication.

If you feel that your condition is due to any of these disorders, it is time to get a bottle of Ka-di-ok and take it at once as prescribed. It has done wonders in thousands of cases; it may do the same for you.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathew's Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 West Sixth street.

Haskin's Letter

agricultural wealth and it was to their advantage to obtain it from a military standpoint, for it protected the Algerian flank. Any other first-rate power in Morocco would seriously annoy the Algerian colony and France had had enough trouble with hostile neighboring nations; always there was Germany on the right bank of the Rhine.

The Moroccan mines produced copper, iron, gold, antimony, lead, petroleum, phosphorus, silver and sulphur. These were invaluable to the French. Also othere were braod fields of barley, oats, maise, sorghum and extensive vineyards.

Many Powers Wanted Morocco.

For these reasons the French coveted Morocco. But with a strong Sultan at Fez little could be done. Moreover there were other powers that wanted it. England and Germany had eyes on it; England, because it would be not only additional military strength added to Gibraltar, but of economic importance, and Germany because it would offer an excellent field of colonization for her expanding population and culture.

Even at this stage we hear from the Riffians. They were in constant rebellion against the Moroccan Sultans. Their swoops from their abode in the mountains were an endless worry to the Shereefian monarchs. These rulers, however, always managed to hold the tribes in check by bribes, concessions or war.

The Sultan Moulai Hassan has already been mentioned. He guarded the shriveled Shereefian Empire with stubborn zeal and fought off all aggressive attempts by the powers. With his death he left the thorne to his Grand Vizier who carried on his work with great skill.

The demise of this man, however, brought his son, Adbul Assiz, to the throne. Reared in the seculsion of the harem, this young man was not capable, when the death of his father suddenly thrust the cares of state upon his shoulders, to carry on. He made an attempt but was not equal to it.

Posing as a liberal monarch he set about to induct western ideas and customs into his empire. He dismissed his father's advisors and brought Europeans to his court. He became a lavish entertainer and the widespread news of his escapades shocked the people he governed. He imported such exotic articles as bicycles and billiard tables, and ran a railroad from his palace to his garden half a mile away.

These things horrified his subjects and his unpopularity mounted by leaps and bounds. He fell a victim to the wiles of a European adventuress, and his affair with her ended in expensive blackmail.

Serious Financial Crisis.

Finally Abdul was faced with a serious financial crisis. The treasury was depleted. The taxes had not been collected since the death of his father. The kingdom was infested with brigands and he was constantly called upon to ransom European captives. Yet all the while he continued his foolish dissipation making himself ridiculously disgusting in the eyes of his subjects and plunging deeper into debt. Finally he ran upon the rocks of bankruptcy.

Desperate, the young prodigal turned to Europe. Europe's financiers flocked like vultures to the prey. France beat the others and her avid ministers soon involved Adbul in a maze of obligations from which he could never escape. Germany lost out, although she did carry some part of the loans to Abdul. English capital also had its share.

Meanwhile England and France met in the Sudan and the famous agreement was reached whereby England received a free hand in Egypt and the Sudan in exchange for a free hand for the French in Morocco. So, with England's consent and support, France, fortified by her financial interests, moved forward to invest the helpless Moroccan state.

A thunderbolt, however, descended from Berlin to break in on the party. Landing at Tangier the Kaiser announced himself the protector of Morocco and Europe stood aghast. The Anglo-French accord was what he was aiming at. Troops were massed on the Rhine, but the danger passed. France was diplomaticlly defeated, but she was drawn closer to England, something the Kaiser loathed. This was in the spring of 1905.

The Tangier crisis led to the conference at Algeciras in January, 1906, where the German victory of the previous year was nullified in that France's way was clear to a Moroccan protectorate. Spain was given the job of policing the Riffian area and France was given practically a free hand at Fez.

Again in 1911 the Kaiser threatened with the Agadir incident. The warship Panther landed at this port during a dispute between France and Spain and a rebellion of the natives. Germany promized support to the natives in resisting French control. Again troops were massed on the Rhien, but again the affair needed in defeat for the Prussian eagle, for France obtained German consent to a free hand and protectorate in Morocco. In return she ceded a slice of French Congo, bordering on the Kameruns—little comfort at Berlin.

Twice had this western vanguard of Islam been the balancing factor between war and peace and twice war had been averted. Germany, floundering in desperation, striving to obtain a colonial field, had been thwarted. It remained for Europe to start Armageddon with an incident of its own and that Armageddon furthered the great movement which is now shaking the world of color to its depth—a mighty cataclysm of which the Riff rebellion is but a tremor.

Chicago is Planning Big Bridge Building Program This Year

CHICAGO, May—Five million dollars for bridges. That is the sum Chicago is to expend before the end of the year. The work will be in keeping with the tremendous pace this city has set since January 1 in building operations.

The work about to be undertaken will provide the city with a number of badly needed crossings. The most costly project will be that at La Salle street, where $2,500,000 will be expended.

Other bridges are to span the Calumet River at One Hundredth street and extend over the Illinois and Michigan Canal at California and Circero avenues.

MR. JOE KOSMOSKY, of 6308 S. Talman Ave., Chicago, Ill., says, "I stop my Checker Cab, which is equipped with two-wheel brakes lined with Rusco Brake Lining, in 29 feet going 20 miles an hour."

That's how safe Rusco-lined, properly adjusted two-wheel brakes will make your car. A lining will pass police inspection if it will stop in 35 feet going 20 miles an hour. Rusco stopped 6 feet quicker! With death or a costly crash just ahead, 6 feet leeway is a godsend.

Wet weather makes no difference

Water makes no difference to Rusco's stopping ability! It is treated with a special compound that makes it resist water, heat, oil, dirt and wear. It will not burn.

Your repair man pays more for Rusco than for other brands of lining but he doesn't charge you more.

Many Powers Wanted Morocco.

For these reasons the French coveted Morocco. But with a strong Sultan at Fez little could be done. Moreover there were other powers that wanted it. England and Germany had eyes on it; England, because it would be not only additional military strength added to Gibraltar, but of economic importance, and Germany because it would offer an excellent field of colonization for her expanding population and culture.

Even at this stage we hear from the Riffians. They were in constant rebellion against the Moroccan Sultans. Their swoops from their abode in the mountains were an endless worry to the Shereefian monarchs. These rulers, however, always managed to hold the tribes in check by bribes, concessions or war.

The Sultan Moulai Hassan has already been mentioned. He guarded the shriveled Shereefian Empire with stubborn zeal and fought off all aggressive attempts by the powers. With his death he left the thorne to his Grand Vizier who carried on his work with great skill.

The demise of this man, however, brought his son, Adbul Assiz, to the throne. Reared in the seculsion of the harem, this young man was not capable, when the death of his father suddenly thrust the cares of state upon his shoulders, to carry on. He made an attempt but was not equal to it.

Posing as a liberal monarch he set about to induct western ideas and customs into his empire. He dismissed his father's advisors and brought Europeans to his court. He became a lavish entertainer and the widespread news of his escapades shocked the people he governed. He imported such exotic articles as bicycles and billiard tables, and ran a railroad from his palace to his garden half a mile away.

These things horrified his subjects and his unpopularity mounted by leaps and bounds. He feli a victim to the wiles of a European adventuress, and his affair with her ended in expensive blackmail.

Serious Financial Crisis.

Finally Abdul was faced with a serious financial crisis. The treasury was depleted. The taxes had not been collected since the death of his fatner. The kingdom was infested with brigands and he was constantly called upon to ransom European captives. Yet all the while he continued his foolish dissipation making himself ridiculously dsgusting in the eyes of his subjects and plunging deeper into debt. Finally he ran upon the rocks of bankruptcy.

Desperate, the young prodigal turned to Europe. Europe's financiers flocked like vultures to the prey. France beat the others and her avid ministers soon involved Adbul in a maze of obligations from which he could never escape. Germany lost out, although she did carry some part of the loans to Abdul. English capital also had its share.

Meanwhile England and France met in the Sudan and the famous agreement was reached whereby England received a free hand in Egypt and the Sudan in exchange for a free hand for the French in Morocco. So, with England's consent and support, France, fortified by her financial interests, moved forward to invest the helpless Moroccan state.

A thunderbolt, however, descended from Berlin to break in on the party. Landing at Tangier the Kaiser announced himself the protector of Morocco and Europe stood aghast. The Anglo-French accord was what he was aiming at. Troops were massed on the Rhine, but the danger passed. France was diplomaticlly defeated, but she was drawn closer to England, something the Kaiser loathed. This was in the spring of 1905.

The Tangier crisis led to the conference at Algeciras in January, 1906, where the German victory of the previous year was nullified in that France's way was clear to a Moroccan protectorate. Spain was given the job of policing the Riffian area and France was given practically a free hand at Fez.

Again in 1911 the Kaiser threatened with the Agadir incident. The warship Panther landed at this port during a dispute between France and Spain and a rebellion of the natives. Germany promized support to the natives in resisting French control. Again troops were massed on the Rhien, but again the affair needed in defeat for the Prussian eagle, for France obtained German consent to a free hand and protectorate in Morocco. In return she ceded a slice of French Congo, bordering on the Kameruns—little comfort at Berlin.

Twice had this western vanguard of Islam been the balancing factor between war and peace and twice war had been averted. Germany, floundering in desperation, striving to obtain a colonial field, had been thwarted. It remained for Europe to start Armageddon with an incident of its own and that Armagedden furthered the great movement which is now shaking the world of color to its depth—a mighty cataclysm of which the Riff rebellion is but a tremor.

Chicago is Planning Big Bridge Building Program This Year

CHICAGO, May—Five million dollars for bridges. That is the sum Chicago is to expend before the end of the year. The work will be in keeping with the tremendous pace this city has set since January 1 in building operations.

The work about to be undertaken will provide the city with a number of badly needed crossings. The most costly project will be that at La Salle street, where $2,500,000 will be expended.

Other bridges are to span the Calumet River at One Hundredth street and extend over the Illinois and Michigan Canal at California and Circero avenues.

Man Has Miraculous Escape

"I was told by our family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition. I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old. I am sure I never could have survived an operation." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Stops your car Quicker!

"I stopped my car in 29 feet going 20 miles an hour!"

MR. JOE KOSMOSKY, of 6308 S. Talman Ave., Chicago, Ill., says, "I stop my Checker Cab, which is equipped with two-wheel brakes lined with Rusco Brake Lining, in 29 feet going 20 miles an hour."

That's how safe Rusco-lined, properly adjusted two-wheel brakes will make your car. A lining will pass police inspection if it will stop in 35 feet going 20 miles an hour. Rusco stopped 6 feet quicker! With death or a costly crash just ahead, 6 feet leeway is a godsend.

Wet weather makes no difference

RUSCO is an all-weather lining. It will stop your car just as quickly in wet weather as in dry. Turn the hose on Rusco-lined brakes. Then on any other kind. Water makes no difference to Rusco's stopping ability! It is treated with a special compound that makes it resist water, heat, oil, dirt and wear. It will not burn.

Your repair man pays more for Rusco than for other brands of lining but he doesn't charge you more.

IN GIVING you Rusco — the finest quality brake lining it is possible for the repair man to obtain — he accepts a less profit than if he sold you any other brand. When your brakes need relining, be sure to get the benefit of Rusco superiority and the conscientious service of a repair man who is willing to take less profit in order to give you a better job. Have your brakes inspected and relined at any of the garages listed below. They are brake lining experts, using special electrical equipment for counter-sinking rivets in lining and riveting lining to brake band.

Chester Team Goes Into Lead In City Industrial League Race

Frank Riley's Nine Wins 7-5 Decision Over Fowler's Club

M. Cebula Holds Trotters to Four Hits and Drives Out Circuit Blow in Fifth; Rival Pace Setters Will Clash in Second Game of Crucial Series Thursday Evening.

Mayor Frank Riley's Chester baseball club went into first place in the City Industrial league race last evening as a result of their 7 to 5 victory over John Fowler's Trotters at Patterson Field, in the first clash of a two-game "crucial" series between the pace setters.

The contest was the initial meeting of the two leaders this season. The rivals are scheduled to battle again on Thursday evening at Smith Field, Chester. A victory for the Chesterites will clinch their hold on the top rung. A victory for Trotters will shove the Riley nine back into second place.

Both clubs, feeling the issue at stake in yesterday's hostilities, played great ball. Each had four miscues, but those of the Ohioans proved most costly.

Not a run was scored by either contender until the fourth when Chester chased in three and Trotters one.

With the count 7 to 2 against them in the seventh Trotters put over three runs and with the bases clogged once and two on, on two other occasions, threatened seriously at times in the gathering darkness to tie or win the contest. A great throw to L. McMath at second by Catcher Potts caught A. Bayley, ending the scrimmage.

The honors of the day were awarded the hefty young Chester hurler, M. Cebula, who blanked his opponents in three of the seven times they faced him. An error in the fourth and two passed balls in the fifth made a run in each instance. Not a hit was garnered off his delivery until the fifth. He permitted but four during the game and two of these came in the seventh. He was a bit wild at times, allowing five passes, two of these coming in the fifth just after he had circled the bases following the most spectacular hit of the day—a drive across the fence in left to the citizens' rhubarb patches.

Seconding M. Cebula in hitting honors was L. McMath who contributed a triple in the seventh that made ultimately for the two runs that gave his team the victory. F. Marshall led with two hits in four appearances as did A. Bayley for the Trotters. The latter's, however, were the more valuable in that the last of his bingles drove in two runs.

Barr allowed seven hits, but three of these were bunched in the seventh. He struck out seven men and walked five. Cebula fanned six, and issued five tickets to first.

Travis took Hunselman's place behind the bat for Trotters and performed well.

The veteran E. Bennett held fourth at first for Chester and drew the plaudits of the fans when he held A. Bayley's fly in the second after it had bounced upward from his glove.

Deshler probably will do the slab work for Trotters on Thursday evening, and it is entirely possible that Chester may send back Cebula. If not, either Powell or Hoy will draw the assignment.

How the Runs Were Made.

Parsons dropped L. McMath's long fly in the fourth. P. Cebula walked. Potts flew to A. Bayley. Both runners moved up. F. Marshall drove to E. Bayley but L. McMath scored. Cochrane singled to left, the ball hitting Parsons and P. Cebula scoring. F. Marshall also came in on Parsons' high throw to stop him at the plate and Cochrane reached third. E. Bennett went out, Barr to Pollock and Cochrane counted as Travis dropped Pollock's assist.

Pollock, in Trotters' half, walked and stole second. He scored on Cochrane threw low to catch Kinsey at first.

The big punch of the fifth was M. Cebula's homer, scoring the fifth run.

Travis singled in the fifth and reached second on a passed ball and third on Barr's out. L. McMath to E. Bennett. He tallied on another passed ball.

P. Bennett singled in the seventh and stole second. He scored on L. McMath's triple to middle. P. Cebula singled, scoring McMath.

In Trotters' half of the seventh, Deshler went in to bat for Barr. Cochrane booted his drive. J. Strobel singled, but was forced at second, M. Cebula to L. McMath, as Deshler ambled over the plate. L. McMath juggled E. Bayley's rap and Pollock walked, clogging the paths. A. Bayley singled, scoring Parsons and E. Bayley, but was caught stealing second after Kinsey had fouled to Cochrane.

Tribe Loses Double.

ST. LOUIS, May 27. — With good pitching, the Browns won both games of their first doubleheader of the season here against the Cleveland Indians. Elam Van Gilder hurled the first victory, 8 to 4, and Dave Danforth tossed the second, 5 to 4.

Ken Williams, outfielder, slammed out a circuit clout in the ninth inning of the first game, in which George Sisler, Brown playing manager, bagged four hits. About 8,000 attended.

B. & W. TOSSERS DROP CLOSE ONE

K. T. K. Wins Pitchers' Duel by Score of 2-1.

Babcock & Wilcox lost a hair line decision to the K. T. K. City Industrial league entry last evening at Columbian park. The score was 2 to 1.

McGeehan and Sainor indulged in a pitchers' battle. The former allowed but three and the latter five hits. Both struck out six each and neither allowed a single pass. It was a great day for both moundsmen.

Finley's error in the first put Werkheiser on. Sharp's double scored him.

In the fourth Sharp bunted to McGeehan who threw widly to first. He scored on Simcox's long single. The latter went to second on the play and counted on Merchant's single.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Babe Ruth, from the bench, watched the Yankees draw an even break in their twin bill with the Red Sox yesterday when they came back strong after losing the first game, 3 to 2, and batted out a 6 to 1 victory in the second encounter.

Shocker allowed but four scattered hits in the Yankee triumph, the only run off him being Todt's homer in the fourth inning.

MANNA ENGLISH DERBY WINNER

Cross Bow and Runnymede, Favorites, Not in Money.

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

EPSOM DOWNS, England, May 27. —The Derby, England's greatest race classic, was won today by Manna, owned by H. E. Morris, of Shaughai, China.

Cross Bow, owned by Lord and Lady Astor (formerly Nancy Langhorne, of Virginia), and a heavily backed favorite, was not in the money, nor was the king's entry, Runnymede, which was touted by the Prince of Wales as a good thing.

Second place went to Zionist and third place to Sirdar.

Manna was an early favorite, but dropped second to Lord Astor's Cross Bow in the late betting, despite the fact that Manna was ridden by Steve Donoughe, England's premier jockey and the rider of three previous Derby winners.

Manna is the property of H. E. Morris, newspaper publisher of Shanghi, China. He was quoted at 7 to 1 some little time before the race.

McTigue May Upset Berlenbach Backers In Friday's Battle

Walsh Asserts Champion's Experience and Cleverness May Help Him Along to the Decision; Title Defender Will be "Right" For His Biggest Scrap.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Broadway, wise in its patter and wise in its gambling, has installed Paul Berlenbach a 6 to 5 favorite to beat Mike McTigue, at the Milk Fund show on Friday night and take over the light-heavyweight championship of the world. The writer thinks Broadway has fouled one into the stands in this instance.

If a hatpin is a more effective weapon than a clothespin, then Mike McTigue should and will do a buck and wing to the decision at the end of fifteen rounds. There doesn't seem to be the slightest reason in the world why a fistic illiterate with the punch of a pile-driver should get to a clever man like McTigue in the game at their disposal. But the so-called "wise money" seems to think otherwise.

It has been fairly showered on Berlenbach's chances, and from present indications a lot of otherwise healthy young men will be eating breakast on Saturday morning at Cheerful Charlie's, where the service is quick but queer.

The complex on Berlenbach apparently has been influenced by the fact that McTigue is defending his title to a referee's decision for the first time and, therefore, can't afford to stall his way to the final bell, as has been his wont. They think Mike will be forced into the open, and probably he will.

They forget that McTigue can fight when forced to that unpleasant occupation. He says he is prepared to do nothing else on Friday night, and if there must be a choice between two determined fighting men, the writer will string along with the one with superior speed and experience. Berlenbach has never beaten a good man; then, why McTigue?

Age, they say, will be a factor. If so, it would be on the side of McTigue, who has used it to learn much of ring ways and to keep his condition as a woman guards her complexion. McTigue, according to the best advices, will be absolutely right on Friday.

He probably will be so "right" that he will stand off Berlenbach's rushes for the first ten rounds and stab off Berlenbach's head for the last five.

Nurmi Badly Beaten In Half-Mile Race

Alan Helffrich Leads Finn by 12 Yards at Wire in Scratch Event.

NEW YORK, May 27—Paavo Nurmi, badly beaten by Allan Helffrich in a special 880-yard race at the Yankee stadium last night, declared today that he had no excuse to offer for his first real defeat in a scratch race since 1920 and admitted that the American was his superior at the distance. At least under existing conditions.

Helffrich finished 12 yards in front in the rather slow time of 1:56 4-5.

"I am tired," Nurmi said, through an interpreter, "I am going back to Finland for a good long rest and then will resume my running. I am not discouraged by the result of the race. Why should I be? Helffrich is a great runner and beat me fairly and squarely.

A. A. U. officials accounted for the slow time by declaring that the cool night air, supplemented by the fact that the track was badly cut up by the one-hour race earlier in the evening, had prevented the runners from doing their best.

Chester Team Goes Into Lead In City Industrial League Race

Frank Riley's Nine Wins 7-5 Decision Over Fowler's Club

M. Cebula Holds Trotters to Four Hits and Drives Out Circuit Blow in Fifth; Rival Pace Setters Will Clash in Second Game of Crucial Series Thursday Evening.

Mayor Frank Riley's Chester baseball club went into first place in the City Industrial league race last evening as a result of their 7 to 5 victory over John Fowler's Trotters at Patterson Field, in the first clash of a two-game "crucial" series between the pace setters.

The contest was the initial meeting of the two leaders this season. The rivals are scheduled to battle again on Thursday evening at Smith Field, Chester. A victory for the Chesterites will clinch their hold on the top rung. A victory for Trotters will shove the Riley nine back into second place.

Both clubs, feeling the issue at stake in yesterday's hostilities, played great ball. Each had four miscues, but those of the Ohioans proved most costly.

Not a run was scored by either contender until the fourth when Chester chased in three and Trotters one.

With the count 7 to 2 against them in the seventh Trotters put over three runs and with the bases clogged once and two on, on two other occasions, threatened seriously at times in the gathering darkness to tie or win the contest. A great throw to L. McMath at second by Catcher Potts caught A. Bayley, ending the scrimmage.

The honors of the day were awarded the hefty young Chester hurler, M. Cebula, who blanked his opponents in three of the seven times they faced him. An error in the fourth and two passed balls in the fifth made a run in each instance. Not a hit was garnered off his delivery until the fifth. He permitted but four during the game and two of these came in the seventh. He was a bit wild at times, allowing five passes, two of these coming in the fifth just after he had circled the bases following the most spectacular hit of the day—a drive across the fence in left to the citizens' rhubarb patches.

Seconding M. Cebula in hitting honors was L. McMath who contributed a triple in the seventh that made ultimately for the two runs that gave his team the victory. F. Marshall led with two hits in four appearances as did A. Bayley for the Trotters. The latter's, however, were the more valuable in that the last of his bingles drove in two runs.

Barr allowed seven hits, but three of these were bunched in the seventh. He struck out seven men and walked five. Cebula fanned six, and issued five tickets to first.

Travis took Hunselman's place behind the bat for Trotters and performed well.

The veteran E. Bennett held fourth at first for Chester and drew the plaudits of the fans when he held A. Bayley's fly in the second after it had bounced upward from his glove.

Deshler probably will do the slab work for Trotters on Thursday evening, and it is entirely possible that Chester may send back Cebula. If not, either Powell or Hoy will draw the assignment.

How the Runs Were Made.

Parsons dropped L. McMath's long fly in the fourth. P. Cebula walked. Potts flew to A. Bayley. Both runners moved up. F. Marshall drove to E. Bayley but L. McMath scored. Cochrane singled to left, the ball hitting Parsons and P. Cebula scoring. F. Marshall also came in on Parsons' high throw to stop him at the plate and Cochrane reached third. E. Bennett went out, Barr to Pollock and Cochrane counted as Travis dropped Pollock's assist.

Pollock, in Trotters' half, walked and stole second. He scored as Cochrane threw low to catch Kinsey at first.

The big punch of the fifth was M. Cebula's homer, scoring the fifth run.

Travis singled in the fifth and reached second on a passed ball and third on Barr's out. L. McMath to E. Bennett. He tallied on another passed ball.

P. Bennett singled in the seventh and stole second. He scored on L. McMath's triple to middle. P. Cebula singled, scoring McMath.

In Trotters' half of the seventh, Deshler went in to bat for Barr. Cochrane booted his drive. J. Strobel singled, but was forced at second, M. Cebula to L. McMath, as Deshler ambled over the plate. L. McMath juggled E. Bayley's rap and Pollock walked, clogging the paths. A. Bayley singled, scoring Parsons and E. Bayley, but was caught stealing second after Kinsey had fouled to Cochrane.

B. & W. TOSSERS DROP CLOSE ONE

K. T. K. Wins Pitchers' Duel by Score of 2-1.

Babcock & Wilcox lost a hair line decision to the K. T. K. City Industrial league entry last evening at Columbian park. The score was 2 to 1.

McGeehan and Sainor indulged in a pitchers' battle. The former allowed but three and the latter five hits. Both struck out six each and neither allowed a single pass. It was a great day for both moundsmen.

Finley's error in the first put Werkheiser on. Sharp's double scored him.

In the fourth Sharp bunted to McGeehan who threw widly to first. He scored on Simcox's long single. The latter went to second on the play and counted on Merchant's single.

Ruth Watches Yankees.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Babe Ruth, from the bench, watched the Yankees draw an even break in their twin bill with the Red Sox yesterday when they came back strong after losing the first game, 3 to 2, and batted out a 6 to 1 victory in the second encounter.

Shocker allowed but four scattered hits in the Yankee triumph, the only run off him being Todt's homer in the fourth inning.

MANNA ENGLISH DERBY WINNER

Cross Bow and Runnymede, Favorites, Not in Money.

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

EPSOM DOWNS, England, May 27.—The Derby, England's greatest race classic, was won today by Manna, owned by H. E. Morris, of Shanghai, China.

Cross Bow, owned by Lord and Lady Astor (formerly Nancy Langhorne, of Virginia), and a heavily backed favorite, was not in the money, nor was the king's entry, Runnymede, which was touted by the Prince of Wales as a good thing.

Second place went to Zionist and third place to Sirdar.

Manna was an early favorite, but dropped second to Lord Astor's Cross Bow in the late betting, despite the fact that Manna was ridden by Steve Donoughe, England's premier jockey and the rider of three previous Derby winners.

Manna is the property of H. E. Morris, newspaper publisher of Shanghi, China. He was quoted at 7 to 1 some little time before the race.

McTigue May Upset Berlenbach Backers In Friday's Battle

Walsh Asserts Champion's Experience and Cleverness May Help Him Along to the Decision; Title Defender Will be "Right" For His Biggest Scrap.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Broadway, wise in its patter and wise in its gambling, has installed Paul Berlenbach a 6 to 5 favorite to beat Mike McTigue, at the Milk Fund show on Friday night and take over the light-heavyweight championship of the world. The writer thinks Broadway has fouled one into the stands in this instance.

If a hatpin is a more effective weapon than a clothespin, then Mike McTigue should and will do a buck and wing to the decision at the end of fifteen rounds. There doesn't seem to be the slightest reason in the world why a fistic illiterate with the punch of a pile-driver should get to a clever man like McTigue in the game at their disposal. But the so-called "wise money" seems to think otherwise.

It has been fairly showered on Berlenbach's chances, and from present indications a lot of otherwise healthy young men will be eating breakast on Saturday morning at Cheerful Charlie's, where the service is quick but queer.

The complex on Berlenbach apparently has been influenced by the fact that McTigue is defending his title to a referee's decision for the first time and, therefore, can't afford to stall his way to the final bell, as has been his wont. They think Mike will be forced into the open, and probably he will.

They forget that McTigue can fight when forced to that unpleasant occupation. He says he is prepared to do nothing else on Friday night, and if there must be a choice between two determined fighting men, the writer will string along with the one with superior speed and experience. Berlenbach has never beaten a good man; then, why McTigue?

Age, they say, will be a factor. If so, it would be on the side of McTigue, who has used it to learn much of ring ways and to keep his condition as a woman guards her complexion. McTigue, according to the best advices, will be absolutely right on Friday.

He probably will be so "right" that he will stand off Berlenbach's rushes for the first ten rounds and stab off Berlenbach's head for the last five.

Nurmi Badly Beaten In Half-Mile Race

Alan Helffrich Leads Finn by 12 Yards at Wire in Scratch Event.

NEW YORK, May 27—Paavo Nurmi, badly beaten by Allan Helffrich in a special 880-yard race at the Yankee stadium last night, declared today that he had no excuse to offer for his first real defeat in a scratch race since 1920 and admitted that the American was his superior at the distance. At least under existing conditions.

Helffrich finished 12 yards in front in the rather slow time of 1:56 4-5.

"I am tired," Nurmi said, through an interpreter, "I am going back to Finland for a good long rest and then will resume my running. I am not discouraged by the result of the race. Why should I be? Helffrich is a great runner and beat me fairly and squarely.

A. A. U. officials accounted for the slow time by declaring that the cool night air, supplemented by the fact that the track was badly cut up by the one-hour race earlier in the evening, had prevented the runners from doing their best.

BIG SIX MEET INTEREST KEEN

Pearce and Heinrichs Will Battle for Honors.

DELAWARE, O., May 27.—Harley Pearce of Ohio Wesleyan, high individual scorer in the 1924 Big Six track and field meet and Heinrichs, Denison sophomore, are expected to battle for high honors as the all star athlete of the Ohio conference at the annual Bix Six meet to be held here Friday and Saturday under auspices of Ohio Wesleyan university.

Pearce won the high jump, pole vault and the high and low hurdles, took third place in the 100 yard dash last year. His friends think he is scheduled to repeat his performance this year.

Finer Performance—Lower Costs Make Contented Owners

It's a great delight to own a four, like the new good Maxwell, that delivers 58 miles an hour, 5 to 25 miles in 8 seconds and gasoline economy of 25 miles to the gallon.

There are still other reasons for the genuine contentment that distinguishes all good Maxwell owners. Their car rides with greater comfort and ease than any other four. Operating and maintenance charges are amazingly low—an advantage Maxwell owners have because of the built-in quality of a car that is completely manufactured within its own great plants.

Good judgment suggests that you get the Maxwell facts before you buy your next car. Owners will tell you of its economy, but a single demonstration will show you how it performs and rides.

Touring Car, Club Coupe, Club Sedan, Standard Four-Door Sedan—attractively priced from $895 to $1095. All prices f. o. b. Detroit, tax extra.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan. Maxwell dealers and superior Maxwell service everywhere.

How to Solve It

Every number indicates the beginning of a word—if horizontal, crosswise, until the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, downwards until the first shaded stop below. Compare the synonyms in the appended lists to the spaces in the diagrams and fill in the words you know. These will give you clues to the more difficult words. When completed the words should interlock perfectly.

MEDAL FOR COURSE RECORD BREAKERS

At last golfers who break course records are to be rewarded. A beautiful medal, designed by James Cady Ewell, one of America's foremost sculptors has just been struck off. This medal stamped out of gold bronze is to be awarded to any golfer, either amateur or pro who establishes a new course record on any golf course—record to have been made any time after January 1st. 1925.

In the past, various prizes have been offered for holes-in-one but the golfers who shattered a course record has gone unrewarded. Holes-in-one, as everyone knows, are almost purely a matter of luck while a course record is made only by consistent and brilliant playing the whole route of a course. Hundreds of course records will fall this season and to each new record holder will go one of these medals presented by Thos. E. Wilson & Co., Chicago, makers of the Pinehurst distance golf ball.

There are no strings to the offer—all that is necessary to acquire one after the player has lowered the course record is to send for an application form which when properly filled in and returned will bring the award at once. This paper will be glad to furnish any new record holder with the necessary application blank.

It is the plan of the donors of this medal to publish each year an Honor book containing names of all Wilson Course record medal winners with records, pictures, etc. To break into this book will be no small accomplishment and it will surely be an index of the Golf Hall of Fame.

QUALIFYING FOR NATIONAL OPEN

By Robert E. Harlow.

LONG BEACH, L. I., May 27.—Faced with the possibility of many upsets due to the tricky character of the course, the eastern qualifying round of the national open golf championship got under way early today when Pete O'Hara, Bretton Woods, N. H., and B. A. Conroy, Arcola, N. J., drove off the first tee before a small but ever-increasing gallery. Perfect weather prevailed.

A lion's share of the nation's stars were in the eastern qualifying round, a three-day affair with half the field playing today, the other half tomorrow and the low scorers meeting in a final test on Friday. At the end, only the 58 best scores and ties will qualify for the championship proper at Worcester, Mass.

The Dodgers staked themselves to a batting spree at the expense of Carlson and Mitchell and twice beat the Phillies, 10 to 4 and 3 to 1. Vance whiffed 10 in the first game.

Robins Grab Two.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Brooklyn tightened its hold on second place by taking both ends of a double header from the Phillies, 10 to 4 and 3 to 1. Vance allowed ten hits in the first contest which were well scattered and he fanned ten batters. Grimes let the Phillies down with six hits in the second game.

How to Solve It

Every number indicates the beginning of a word—if horizontal, crosswise, until the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, downwards until the first shaded stop below. Compare the synonyms in the appended lists to the spaces in the diagrams and fill in the words you know. These will give you clues to the more difficult words. When completed the words should interlock perfectly.

MEDAL FOR COURSE RECORD BREAKERS

At last golfers who break course records are to be rewarded. A beautiful medal, designed by James Cady Ewell, one of America's foremost sculptors has just been struck off. This medal stamped out of gold bronze is to be awarded to any golfer, either amateur or pro who establishes a new course record on any golf course—record to have been made any time after January 1st. 1925.

In the past, various prizes have been offered for holes-in-one but the golfers who shattered a course record has gone unrewarded. Holes-in-one, as everyone knows, are almost purely a matter of luck while a course record is made only by consistent and brilliant playing the whole route of a course. Hundreds of course records will fall this season and to each new record holder will go one of these medals presented by Thos. E. Wilson & Co., Chicago, makers of the Pinehurst distance golf ball.

There are no strings to the offer—all that is necessary to acquire one after the player has lowered the course record is to send for an application form which when properly filled in and returned will bring the award at once. This paper will be glad to furnish any new record holder with the necessary application blank.

It is the plan of the donors of this medal to publish each year an Honor book containing names of all Wilson Course record medal winners with records, pictures, etc. To break into this book will be no small accomplishment and it will surely be an index of the Golf Hall of Fame.

QUALIFYING FOR NATIONAL OPEN

By Robert E. Harlow.

LONG BEACH, L. I., May 27.—Faced with the possibility of many upsets due to the tricky character of the course, the eastern qualifying round of the national open golf championship got under way early today when Pete O'Hara, Bretton Woods, N. H., and B. A. Conroy, Arcola, N. J., drove off the first tee before a small but ever-increasing gallery. Perfect weather prevailed.

A lion's share of the nation's stars were in the eastern qualifying round, a three-day affair with half the field playing today, the other half tomorrow and the low scorers meeting in a final test on Friday. At the end, only the 58 best scores and ties will qualify for the championship proper at Worcester, Mass.

The Dodgers staked themselves to a batting spree at the expense of Carlson and Mitchell and twice beat the Phillies, 10 to 4 and 3 to 1. Vance whiffed 10 in the first game.

Robins Grab Two.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Brooklyn tightened its hold on second place by taking both ends of a double header from the Phillies, 10 to 4 and 3 to 1. Vance allowed ten hits in the first contest which were well scattered and he fanned ten batters. Grimes let the Phillies down with six hits in the second game.

Missouri School Children Build Minature Town

Classes in Manual Training Erect Model City of 1,200 Buildings in Part at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 27. — Tucked away in this town, in the heart of the Missouri Ozarks, is a town not to be found upon maps or in the postal guide. It is the work of children in the schools of this city, but it is complete in every detail. In its limits are 1,200 modern structures, built on the scale of one inch for every foot. It has streets, courts, parks, electric lights; in a word, everything to be found in the modern city or town.

It is Tiny Town.

The little city is unique. It is the only one of its kind in the United States. Once before, several years ago, the children, with the help of their elders, laid out a similar town. This year's observance of the rule of children will be from May 25 to June 6.

President Coolidge has been asked to attend the formal opening. Gordon Cummings, city manager of Tiny Town, and Miss Hazel Wilhoit, mayoress, went to Washington to extend the invitation to the president.

Tiny Town has been erected in a park in the heart of Springfield. Pupils in the schools' manuel training classes constructed the houses and office buildings. Officers of the town were elected by the children after they had selected the city manager plan as their form of government.

The personnel of the city's administration force is complete from the manager down.

The exhibit is expected to draw thousands of visitors to Springfield.

Missouri School Children Build Minature Town

Classes in Manual Training Erect Model City of 1,200 Buildings in Part at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 27. — Tucked away in this town, in the heart of the Missouri Ozarks, is a town not to be found upon maps or in the postal guide. It is the work of children in the schools of this city, but it is complete in every detail. In its limits are 1,200 modern structures, built on the scale of one inch for every foot. It has streets, courts, parks, electric lights; in a word, everything to be found in the modern city or town.

It is Tiny Town.

The little city is unique. It is the only one of its kind in the United States. Once before, several years ago, the children, with the help of their elders, laid out a similar town. This year's observance of the rule of children will be from May 25 to June 6.

President Coolidge has been asked to attend the formal opening. Gordon Cummings, city manager of Tiny Town, and Miss Hazel Wilhoit, mayoress, went to Washington to extend the invitation to the president.

Tiny Town has been erected in a park in the heart of Springfield. Pupils in the schools' manuel training classes constructed the houses and office buildings. Officers of the town were elected by the children after they had selected the city manager plan as their form of government.

The personnel of the city's administration force is complete from the manager down.

The exhibit is expected to draw thousands of visitors to Springfield.

The News Kaleidoscope.
Coolidge Well Again.
Big Country, Big Things.
The Mind Rules—But.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Looking into the news when you grow up is like looking into a kaleidoscope when you are little. It's a constant changing and rapid forgetting.

A while ago the whole world felt that nothing could ever be as interesting as news of Germany's effort to reach Paris.

That's ancient history now and our war thought is concentrated on getting back, at leisure, money that we loaned in a hurry.

We are not apt to get very much of it.

The British announce, semi-officially, but firmly, that they expect France to pay England a dollar for every dollar paid us. That doubles the load and multiplies by two reasons for not paying.

President Coolidge is back working at his desk, and that's good news. Citizens, invited to White House breakfasts, report that the president, discussing national affairs in short, crisp sentences, eats buckwheat cakes, with molasses and sausages, between sentences.

That can be done when you pitch hay on the old farm. But the president's recent touch of indigestion will remind him that you must be careful of your stomach, when you hold a job that keeps the blood in your brain all the time, and away from the stomach that needs it for digesting.

Buckwheat cakes and sausages do not go with constant hard thinking.

This country does things in a big way. The new Edison Light company plant in New York will cost fifty millions and will create enough light to supply the whole of France. That one plant develops more power than could be got if all the horses in the United States were hitched up, pulling at one load.

This plant would light 3,000,000 six-room houses, enough for any state in the Union except New York, and enough for New York state, excepting New York city.

John A. Kerr, a retired merchant, found his daughter lying dead, killed by escaping gas. Immediately his heart stopped beating, and he dropped dead.

That's proof that mind controls matters. A mental shock, and nothing else, killed that man.

On the other hand, the ultra-foolish, who think that mind rules and can control everything ignoring nature's physical laws, learn their mistake if they break a bone and do not have it set properly.

"Not too much, not too little" is the sound maxim. Not too much confidence in material things, and not too much ignoring of them.

German scientists, fighting contagious diseases, adopt this motto:

"Don't let your children be kissed by strangers."

A better motto would be:

"Don't let your children be kissed by anyone."

Kissing children that do not belong to you is offensive and dangerous stupidity, and that applies to politicians, and all others.

You need not be diseased to be a carrier of disease. Your own system may resist germs that would be fatal planted on the delicate mucuous membranes of a child.

Old men kill themselves by going to the funerals of other old men, standing bare-headed in the cold wind. That can't be helped; it's sentimental and usually does not matter.

But promiscuous kissing of children by people that should have sense enough to leave the children alone can be prevented, and should be.

No news of Amundsen at this writing. He and his comrades may be struggling for life on the polar ice, or he may have found a safe landing place, with plenty of leisure for the return "hop-off." Amundsen is a thoroughly scientific man. Peary had the honor of reaching the pole first, and he, Amundsen, may decide to examine the polar area thoroughly while he is there—not that there is much to examine.

If wishing could bring a man back to safety, Amundsen would return.

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE TEAMS RAISE $15,530 FUND IN 10 HOURS

Budget Goal is Passed Here on First Day.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Generous Response Makes Two-day Canvass Unnecessary.

Within 10 hours after solicitation was actually started, the $15,000 quota asked by the Y. M. C. A. to meet its budget for the year ending April 30, 1926, was exceeded, according to reports made at a meeting of the workers at the Y building, last evening. Contributions totaled $15,530

Thompson's Division Sets Pace.

One hundred and thirty-one men, including manufacturers, merchants, and professional men of the district, attended last night's meeting, preceded by a dinner, when Attorney W. H. Vodrey, chairman of the board of directors of the institution and campaign chairman, announced the goal was attained.

Division A, in charge of "Colonel" J. Donald Thompson carried off campaign honors, collecting $6,023 as compared with $5,687 garnered in by the workers, directed by Edwin Wells, Jr. The executive committee, canvassing the manufacturers and other large contributors, turned in $3,820.

Team honors went to the squad led by Captain Malcom Thompson of J. D. Thompson's division. Thompson and his co-workers secured pledges amounting to $1,247. Members of the team were called to the speakers' table after the reports had been made and presented with miniature hats, which Campaign Chairman Vodrey reported had been furnished by one of the "crowned heads of Europe." Music, during the dinner, was furnished by the Seven Sirens, a girls' orchestra directed by Mrs. Danks Cochran.

The workers were highly elated over the results of the campaign which was originally planned for two days.

Reports of Teams

This is the first time in Y. M. C. A. history that a campaign here has been put over in less than the allotted period. The report proved a surprise even to the leaders.

The reports of teams follow:

Division A—"Colonel" J. D. Thompson.

Team No. 1.—L. C. Cooper, captain	$ 814
Team No. 2.—Irwin-Williams, captain	810
Team No. 3.—Malcolm Thompson, captain	1,247

Ten Bandits Hold Entire Town at Bay As They Loot Bank

KENTLAND, Ind., May 27.—The entire town of Brooks, Ind., near here, was held at bay by a gang of 10 bandits this morning while they smashed open the doors of the Brook state bank, opened the vault with a blast of nitroglycerine which shook the town, and escaped. Before beginning their marauding the bandits cut all telephone and telegraph wires and then raided the telephone company's office, putting the lone operator to flight after he had attempted to arouse the village with the electric fire siren already put out of commission by the robbers. Brooks has about 120 inhabitants.

130 Recognition Students Will Be Honored At Chapel

Gold and Silver Pins Will be Awarded at Closing Exercises in High School Friday Morning.

One hundred and thirty high school students, who qualified for places on the recognition list during the last 24 weeks of the school term, will be honored at the final chapel exercises, to be conducted in the high school auditorium on Friday morning.

Twenty-eight pupils in the A group—students whose grades never fell below the 90 mark at any time during the period the system was in effect—will receive gold pins, bearing the letter "H," for honor, in blue enamel.

Forty-five others in the B classification will receive a silver pin of the same design. This group is made up of students having grades of 90 or above in three subjects, the fourth not being below 80.

The other classification—Group C—numbering 54, will also receive a silver pin without the enameled center, but containing the letter "H" in the center. This group is made up of students, whose grades were not below the 80 mark at any time during the semester. Students in all three groups were also required to qualify in citizenship.

Three other students will also be honored. They are William Dunlap and Homer Boyd, editor and business manager, respectively, of the Keramos, high school paper, who will receive pins bearing the letter "K," for Keramos, and E. K. Bennett Jr., who is also receiving special recognition in view of his splendid work. In addition to his high school studies, young Bennett during his four years in high school, took six extra curricula, including band, orchestra, dramatics, Keramos and athletics.

These pins were to have been awarded at the Recognition day exercises last Thursday afternoon, but did not arrive in time. The ceremonies were then arranged for the closing day of school.

The recognition system, proved successful, according to Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal. The system of posting lists at the end of six-week periods of school was an incentive to students to work harder in order to qualify for one of the three groups.

POLICE ARE INSTRUCTED TO ARREST ONE-WAY TRAFFIC RULE OFFENDERS

Chief McDermott Warns Motorists Who Ignore Regulations Governing Operation of Cars on Washington Street.

Chief of Police Hugh J. McDermott today instructed patrolmen to arrest all automobilists who ignore the one-way traffic regulations governing operations of motive cars on Washington street.

According to McDermott, many complaints have been received of violations of the traffic order in effect between Fourth and Sixth streets. In an effort to halt the practice, he will assign an officer to this thoroughfare with orders to arrest every violator.

"The one-way traffic rule has been in effect on Washington street long enough for everyone to know it, and motorists who are apprehended for violation of the order can expect no leniency," the chief said.

A new one-way traffic sign has been placed at Sixth street exit of the street to warn drivers. A similar sign is to be erected at the Fifth street exit.

CLEARING WEATHER RENEWS HOPE FOR AMUNDSEN-ELLSWORTH PARTY

North Pole Explorers Well Supplied With Food and Clothing to Make Safe Journey Back by Foot.

OSLO, Norway, May 27.—Clearing weather and bright skies in the polar region gave scientists and members of the Amudsen-Ellsworth party who are still at Spitzbergen renewed hope today that Amundsen and his five associates would return in safety from their North Pole flight.

A greater length of time must elapse, it was indicated by government officials, before there is sufficient apprehension on the part of the Norwegian government to ask the United States or any other outside agency to send searchers after Amundsen. It will be, they said, at least, several days more before the government will consider steps should be taken to determine what has happened to the Amundsen-Ellsworth flyers.

Great interest was displayed here in reports from the United States quoting Bernard Prentice, brother-in-law of Ellsworth, as saying that Ellsworth had said the party might go on to Alaska, if it succeeded in making a successful flight to the pole.

Scientists pointed out that Amundsen and his party were well supplied with food and clothing and would have every opportunity to make a safe journey back on foot in case of accident to the two airplanes.

Prestrud, one of Amundsen's colleagues of the South Pole expedition, said he had not given up hope and would not, even if several months passed without news. He recalled that three days were found necessary to fix the position of the South Pole. He believes, he said, that it would take a similar length of time to fix the position of the North Pole where conditions, he thinks, are more difficult.

Prestrud does not see why Amundsen should not overcome all difficulties, even if he has to march afoot as did Nansen.

FALL, SINCLAIR, DOHENY INDICTED

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and the oil magnates, E. L. Doheny, and Harry F. Sinclair, were indicted here again today by a federal grand jury for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in the California and Wyoming naval oil leases.

This is the second time the three men have been indicted on the same charge. The first indictment was dismissed by the district of Columbia supreme court because unauthorized persons were in the grand jury room, while the inquiry was being made.

The indictments are the outgrowth of the Senate oil lease investigation of a year ago.

"KING OF LAKE RUM RUNNERS" AND NINE OTHERS ARE CAPTURED

Armed Girl Among Prisoners Bagged After Shots are Fired at 42-foot Craft by Cutter.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 27.—Captain Ben Kerr, of Toronto, so-called "king of the lake rum runners," and eight other men and an armed girl, were captured early today following a chase of a 42-foot craft by a coast guard cutter.

Eight shots were fired from the government boat before Kerr brought his boat to a halt and surrendered. Only eight cases of Canadian ale were found on the boat, but hundreds of cases were thrown overboard by the runners in the attempt to escape.

Mae Davis, 25, of Webster, N. Y., dressed as a man, was arrested on shore by customs men who took a revolver from her pocket. She was one of the unloading detail, according to the officers.

Captain Kerr, according to federal officers, is the most daring rum runner on the lake. They have lain in wait for him the last three years, it was said.

Gov. Donahey Asks Hamilton Mayor to Oust Police Chief

COLUMBUS, May 27.—Governor Donahey today wrote Mayor Kelly, Hamilton, asking the mayor to remove Chief of Police Clements. The governor's action was based upon results of an investigation conducted by State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald and followed submission of affidavits to the governor, accusing Clements with laxity in enforcement of laws.

The governor pointed out that Clements had a right to appeal to the state civil service commission for reinstatement. It was claimed Clements was arrested at the Louisville, Ky., Derby races last week and was charged with possessing whisky illegally.

"ROTTEN, ROTTEN," SAYS THAW AFTER ANOTHER WILD NIGHT ON BROADWAY

There's No Comparison Between Times Now and Old Days, White's Slayer Tells Reporter.

BY DAVIS SENTNER.

(Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.)

NEW YORK, May 27.—"Rotten, rotten, rotten. That's how these times compared with the old days. Why, there's no comparison.'

Harry K. Thaw, speaking.

He leaned back wearily as the taxi-cab meandered through Central Park this morning in the sunrise of a new day. It followed a somewhat wild night along Broadway and through the "Roaring Forties"—perhaps the wildest evening Harry has spent since he wound up another wild one some 20 years ago by shooting Stanford White under the gilt Diana atop Madison Square Garden.

A few hours earlier, surrounded by a bevy of chorus girls in a night club, he had lifted his glass and said:

"The women weren't so beautiful in the old days. They were different, too.

INNOCENT PEDESTRIAN IS SHOT DOWN AS SIX FUGITIVES OPEN FIRE

East Liverpool Police Join With Cleveland Authorities in Search for Murderers Who Were in Machine, Owned by Charles M. Shaffer, Which Was Stolen Here Sunday Night.

REVOLVER DUEL WITH DETECTIVE FOLLOWS, BUT GUNMEN ESCAPE

Police Believe Shot That Killed Man on Sidewalk Was Intended for Occupant of House at Webster Avenue N. E. and East 13th Street in Forest City Monday.

Police today joined Cleveland authorities in an attempt to identify six men, believed to be from East Liverpool, who Monday night shot and killed William Stamford, 30, of 2507 Scoville avenue, Cleveland, and then fled in an automobile owned by Charles Shaffer, of Lincoln highway, which was stolen while parked near the First Baptist church, Sunday night.

Identification of the car in which the assailants were riding was established by means of the license number, which was taken while the gunmen were escaping from the scene of the murder. Chief of Police Jacob Graul, of Cleveland, yesterday asked Chief Hugh McDermott to ascertain the identity of the party to whom the license was issued.

Police here recognized the number furnished by Graul as the license number of the car stolen Sunday night and immediately advised the Cleveland police department head that the automobile had been stolen. Shaffer had parked the car in East alley, near the church, while he was attending services. When he left the church at 9:15 o'clock, the machine was gone.

According to the police, Stamford, the murder victim, was standat the corner of East Thirteenth street and Webster avenue, Cleveland, Monday night when a large touring car, carrying 6 passengers, drove by. As the automobile passed him, the man seated beside the driver is said to have leaned from his seat and shot Stamford three times. He died almost immediately.

Bullets Pierce Back of Car.

Detective John Lynch was standing just a block away from the point where Stamford was shot down and attempted to halt the machine as it dashed past him. He called for the men to surrender and they answered with two shots from the car.

Lynch opened fire on the fleeing machine, two bullets piercing the back of the car. Another shot was returned by the fugitives. The detective commandeered another car and pursued the gunmen to East Twenty-third street and Webster avenue, where he lost the trail.

Cleveland police, who investigated the shooting, believe that the shots were intended for the occupant of the house near which Stamford was standing. They questioned the party to determine whether or not he had any known enemies, but he could throw no light on the affair. Lynch believes that the six strangers were intoxicated.

Suspect Local Men.

After the theft of the Shaffer car was reported to the local police Sunday night, a search was instituted. Roads leading out of the city were combed during the night and all day Monday, but no trace of the automobile was found. The car had been missing for approximately 24 hours when the murder took place.

The description of the machine differs slightly from that furnished the police by Shaffer. Lynch said the car was a dark green in color, while police here say the car was blue.

Police today are keeping a sharp lookout on places where suspects might loiter in an effort to pick up a clue as to the identity of the slayers. Police believe the car was taken by local talent.

KLAN AND FOES IN TWO CLASHES

Sound False Alarms of Fire After Meet in Massachusetts.

CLINTON, Mass., May 27.—Sounding of six false alarms of fire in various section of the city early today following a Ku Klux Klan meeting in Berlin and the mobilizing of the Clinton police, created great excitement in the town.

There were two clashes between klansmen and anti-klansmen, but no injuries were reported. The disturbance was the latest of a series of klan and anti-klan troubles in Worcester county.

As the klan meeting in Brewer field, Berlin, conducted with the burning of a cross, broke up, police were informed that the klansmen were going to parade through Clinton. Residents of Clinton were aroused by the repeated ringing of the fire alarms, but the klan parade failed to appear although two or three klan automobiles came into town.

Wild reports were circulated about the disturbances. One report to the police had it that a klan parade was attacked and scores injured, but later investigation showed this report to be untrue.

"Rotten," Says Thaw

No Justice Nowadays, He Says.

There was a sparkle in his eyes, then a laughter in his voice. Hitting the pace of other years and surrounded by scenes that were at least reminiscent, his mood was gay.

But in the taxicab in the chilly sunrise, it was different. He was not the dapper, the "Handsome Harry" of other years. His hair was white, his face ashen and old. And the sparkle of his eyes in the supper club had given way to a glaze.

"It's rotten, I tell you," he repeated dully. "Not like the old days."

"There's no justice nowadays. Courts are corrupt. Everything corrupt. Look at me. There should be a law against such a deal as I've gone through——"

His voice trailed off and he almost dozed.

Harry has been re-discovering Broadway, the scene of his earlier escapades, and the tinseled thoroughfare down which he strewd thousands on his way to a murder trial and two insanity trials. He abandoned the monotonous existence of a country squire and volunteer fireman in Winchester, Va., to come to New York to see how Broadway had changed in 20 years. He doesn't like the new one.

Attends "Girlie Revue."

In one of the supper clubs, to which the writer accompanied him, he was as usual, surrounded by a group of the girls. One of them, a petite beauty, scarcely out of her 'teens, leaned across the table and raising her glass, said saucily:

"Come here, Old Kokomo, and mamma'll kiss you."

"I don't like that," said Thaw.

Harry started out to see the town by having an early dinner at one of the supper clubs in the 'Forties.' Here the head waiter expects at least $10 for showing the patron to a table. Everything else is in proportion.

Then he attended a "girlie revue." He applauded frequently, but left before the final curtain.

"Not a soul recognized me," he said, somewhat triumphantly, and with just a note of sadness.

A round of various night clubs followed. He stayed away, however, from Tex Guinan's new club, because the publicity that attended his presence there the night before drew a lot of curiosity seekers.

Eludes Curiosity Seekers

Always, Harry was interested in the girls. He talked of them continually, and his eyes seldom left them.

One name came in frequently.

'That Fawn Gray girl," he said. "There's a peach for you."

Fawn was Harry's companion on his first excursion into the white lights the night before. She is wearing a diamond bracelet today. Harry tired of the supper clubs in the small hours, and accepted an invitation from Texas to come to her house in West Eighth street. He dozed for a time on the divan and left finally, forgetting his hat.

"Wanna ride," he said. The taxicab trip followed.

Harry has eluded some of those attracted by the glitter of his name and his bankroll by registering at several hotels and staying at a different one each night. It was to one of these that he repaired at 9 o'clock this morning.

Doctors are Using X-Ray in Treatment Of Whooping Cough

ATLANTIC CITY, May 27.—X-Ray is being used successfully in the treatment of whooping cough, infants can be cured of rickets by feeding them certain foods treated by sun rays or X-Rays, and scarlet fever can be prevented and cured by a new anti-toxin, speakers told the American Medical association's convention here today.

Dr. Lawrence W. Smith, of Boston, said that X-Ray can shorten the duration and lessen the severity of whooping cough. Rickets is due to a lack of vitamin, which can be supplied by natural or artificial means said Dr. Alfred F. Hess, New York city.

Dr. W. S. Park of New York, told fo the new scarlet fever anti-toxin. The need of more rigid and general meat inspection was urged on the convention by Dr. W. H. Lipman of Chicago. Physicians should fight to prevent any but optometrists obtaining sole legal right to fit eyeglasses, said Dr. James M. Patton of Omaha.

Successful treatment of infantile paralysis by means of frequent punctures of the spianl column were described by Dr. J. C. Montgomery of Detroit.

Prisoner's Attack On Jail Roaches Causes Fire Alarm

Efforts of a prisoner to exterminate roaches, which have been habitating the city jail, was responsible for a fire alarm about 8:10 o'clock last evening.

One of the prisoners set fire to a pile of waste paper in which dozens of roaches were in hiding. The blaze got beyond his control and Desk Sergeant Norman McFarland, fearing that the building was in danger, summoned the fire department.

The blaze, however, had been extinguished before the arrival of the fire laddies. There was no damage.

THREE SOFIA PLOTTERS DIE

Chief Perpetrators of Cathedral Tragedy are Hanged.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 27.—The three principal perpetrators of the Sveti Kral cathedral tragedy, Zadgorsky, Friedmann and Colonel Koeff, were hanged at 6 o'clock this morning.

The military court condemned to death the French woman, Madame Mallet Nicolova, the Swiss citizen, Leges, and the agrarian, Perchemlieff, who were charged with having sheltered the cathedral bombers who caused the death of approximately 160 persons in a plot to overthrow the Bulgarian government.

The wife of Leges and a son of Madame Nicolova were sentenced to life imprisonment.

The hangings were held publicly. A corden of police and soldiers surrounded the gallows to keep back the crowds, which were immense. It seemed as though the entire city had turned out to see the executions.

Volunteers were called to act as hangmen. No one volunteered. The authorities then summoned Jypsy Demir, who is the veteran hangman, to carry out the lethal task.

Boy, With Grain Of Corn in Throat, Awaits Operation

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Weakened by the long journey here from Dade City, Fla., John O. Coleman, 6, who was rushed to the University of Pennsylvania hospital to have a grain of corn removed from his throat, was in too critical condition today to undergo the operation.

X-ray pictures taken late yesterday, when it was erroneously reported at the hospital that a successful operation had been performed, showed the grain of corn had become enlarged, physicians announced.

Hospital attaches were unable to say when young Coleman's condition will permit the operation.

Harvey Blackmar, 3, of South Bend, Ind., was operated on yesterday and a peanut removed from his throat with a bronchoscope, an instrument invented by Dr. Chevalier Jackson. This gave rise to the false report of an operation on Coleman.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 27.—Motor stocks and high-priced industrials led the market in a moderate rally in the early trading today. A number of the independent oils and public utilities shares resumed the upward movement at the points where they were last Friday and Saturday, the horizontal price advance in wholesale and retail gasoline being a stimulating factor in the former group. Forward movements also took place in practically all of the industrial leaders, including Gulf States, American Can, General Electric, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, Baldwin Locomotive, Texas Gulf, Sulphur, etc. The elimination of a large volume of profit-taking sales in the two previous sessions of the week, and the heavy short existing in industrial and motor shares presented a good back ground for speculative buying, to which also the easy situation in the money market, the generally satisfactory condition of trade and industry also contributed.

Most of the active motor stocks were whipped along to higher price levels under the aggressive leadership of Studebaker. This stock sold above 49 for the first time since the split up of the stock last year. Trading was unusually heavy in this stock. Maxwell B. struck another note in its sensational advance by selling for the first time at $100 a share. General Motors, Chandler, Mack Trucks, Stromberg Carburetor, Continental Motors, Paige Detroit, Packard, Jordan and other active motor stocks advanced in good form to the highest prices on the movement.

PRESBYTERIANS AVOID SPLIT

Protest Follows Gantz Decision—1926 Meet in Baltimore.

COLUMBUS, May 27.— Leaders of the Presbyterian church, cheered by clearing skies in the raging doctrinal controversy, today acted to avoid steps which would lead to a split in the church as a result of the Gantz decision yesterday.

Bitter threats of modernist New York leaders that the wealthy and powerful metropolitan church would break with the main church body, resulted only in vigorous protests by the modernists against the judicial commission's ruling that complete faith in the virgin birth is an essential qualification for licensure as a Presbyterian minister.

A break has been averted for a year at least by the action of the general assembly in ordering investigation of the whole modernist-fundamentalist controversy by a special commission, Dr. Coffin admitted.

Hints that the battle might reach the civil courts were given by Dr. Coffin.

Signatures to the statement of protest against the judicial commission decision represented commissioners from New York city and state, as well as from Chicago and Illinois. St. Louis and Missouri and from New Jersey, Montana, Minnesota, Wyoming and Iowa.

The general assembly was dissolved at noon. The 1926 general assembly will meet in Baltimore, Md.

City Solons Confer With County Auditor On Eighth St. Job

Members of the finance committee of the city council, Auditor William McGraw and Solicitor Harry Brokaw conferred with County Auditor Charles Hamilton and L. H. Johnson, clerk of the board of county commissioners, at Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, relative to the proposed West Eighth street improvement.

Council at their meeting last Friday deferred action on the proposed West Eighth street improvement pending an investigation as to the city's authority to issue bonds to meet the municipality's share of the cost of the proposed improvement.

The township trustees have promised to grade and hard-surface Shadyside avenue immediately if the city will widen and resurface West Eighth street from the West End school to the city limits. County authorities declare this proposition to be the most liberal ever made in "trade off" construction work in this county for several years.

Mrs. James Harrison will be hostess to members of the O. N. O. club this evening at her home in Clark avenue. The customary business session will be followed by a social hour. Luncheon will be served.

LAUNCH PAVING WORK THURSDAY

Wells avenue will be closed to traffic at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, according to County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk, who has announced that Contractor George Patterson will begin the improvement of this street at that time.

An agreement has been reached with the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company, regarding the project agreeable to the terms of the contract, and the company will throw "cross-overs" at either end of the job for service cars Wednesday night.

The only detour that is wholly improved will be by the way of West Point. Dirt road detours, however, will be provided, and it has been suggested by Mr. Kirk that traffic follow the detour signs.

The county commissioners have put $15,000 into this project on account of it being a part of a state highway route.

Aged Mariner Sails Sea In Tiny Dory For Thrill

Com. Maude, 77, Tempts Fate n Journey to England in 25-foot Craft.

VICTORIA, B. C.—Commander Eustace B. Maude, formerly an officer in the royal navy, is seventy-seven years of age, but he is still young enough to seek a thrill. On May 2 he left Victoria in his twenty five-foot dory, the Half Moon, on a cruise to England, with a complete set of Shakespeare as his only companion.

Commander Maude, who stands over six feet and is still fairly nimble, has been enjoying life on the Pacific slope for some years. During the past Winter his sealegs got itchy to feel a heaving deck beneath them, so he sent his wife and daughter off to England by the usual means of transportation and then proceeded to fit out his craft. The Half Moon has two masts and a small auxiliary engine and is jammed full of stores, water and gasoline.

Commander Maude refused to leave behind his armchair, which he has lashed in the cockpit, so that he can sit there when the weather is fine, smoke his pipe and read "The Merchant of Venice" or some other Shakesperean play.

The ancient mariner is in no way alarmed over the long journey. He says he will take things easy and hopes to reach England in less than four months. He refuses to skirt the coast on the way to Panama, believing he will be safer by running well offshore and then turning southward. After passing through the Panama Canal he will head through the Gulf of Mexico and northwestward across the Atlantic.

The commander was given a big send-off when he left Victoria, but many shook their heads at the wisdom of the effort.

A German officer has designed an aero dynamo, driven by a propeller, to provide electricity on farms.

Modern Man Healthier Than Ancestors View Of Herbert C. Hooks

CHICAGO—Despite the theory that luxury, lack of exercise and the invention of work-reducing devices are making modern man a pampered weakling, he is actually bigger in stature, healthier and stronger physically than were his ancestors, according to Herbert C. Hooks, secretary of the Evaporated Milk association, in an address here.

Thousands Endorse World's Tonic

When hundreds of your own townspeople are loud in the praise of the World's Tonic, why do you continue to go about half dead?

It's a wonderful medicine for people who have run down in health, because it arouses and energizes every function of the body, removes the clogging congestion that we call catarrh, and sets up a circulation of good rich blood that speedily repairs and strengthens the organs.

Made This Man Well.

York Slim, who lives at 939 N. Sixth street, Steubenville, is a fair example nothing he ate agreed with him, and he seemed to be carrying a load in his stomach all the time. Mornings he had a bitter taste in his mouth, felt tired and generally wretched. Let him tell it.

"I got a bottle of World's Tonic from my druggist, Carnahan's. Before I had taken half of it I noticed a change. I began to enjoy my meals. When I had taken a bottle I knew I was on the right course. The third bottle finished the job, and I am well. You cannot know how grateful I am — and I never fail to tell my friends of the value of this remarkable medicine. It's great."

Try it for youself. That's the best proof in the world—and when you are well you will be as enthusiastic as Mr. Slim.

For sale at Carnahan's, also Brannan's, Wellsville, and all other good druggists.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1925.

A Good Business Proposition

Acceptance of the four-cornered proposal for the improvement of the "mud hole" link between the improved section of West Eighth street and paved strip of the East Liverpool-Wellsville road as well as the improvement of Shadyside avenue, which is part of the Campground road, rests with the municipal council.

The action of the finance committee of the legislative body, now investigating the question, shall determine whether East Liverpool accepts or rejects a gift of $55,000, for the county commissioners have promised $20,000, the Liverpool township trustees a like amount and the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company $15,000.

In return for this, the city will invest approximately $40,000, of which $10,000 will be taken from the street maintenance fund which is derived from the sale of automobile licenses.

It is a good business proposition for the city, approved by the service director and all good road boosters, and should be accepted.

Wives and Checks

A bill introduced in the Florida legislature requires the joint signature of husband and wife, or the endorsement of the wife, to make a bank check or draft valid. A bank cashing a check for a husband without the wife's signature or endorsement may be compelled to pay the wife, also, the full amount of the check.

All kinds of bills are poured into legislative hoppers. The Florida legislature has another bill pending which would make it unlawful to call any Florida girl a "flapper." Legislatures, however, are usually rather sensible on the whole, whatever may be the vagaries of individual members.

A measure of this kind evidently aims to serve a good purpose. Many wives suffer because of financial difficulties caused by husbands cashing and spending their pay checks or checking out family money and using it selfishly. But it doesn't follow that this is the way to remedy the evil. The plan proposed would make an enormous amount of confusion and difficulty in the handling of checks, and impose an unnecessary burden on banks.

Acting

"Everybody wants to act," says a dramatic instructor.

Many people will deny it, yet perhaps he is right. The present vogue for amateur dramatics seems to uphold him. In nearly every American city there are volunteer companies putting on plays of one kind or another, at least once a year, and in dozens of cities there are amateurs producing standard plays over a more or less extended season, and doing it well. Many a man or woman, in such dramatics, has only discovered in middle life what thrill and pleasure there is in stage-acting.

There is something of the dramatic, no doubt, in all of us, and there may be unsuspected talent in many of us. It is possible that there are men and women who have never spoken a line on the stage who were better fitted by nature for the histrionic art than our most famous professionals. There may be mute, inglorious Irvings, Mansfields and Marlowes as well as Miltons.

Ford As a Shipping Magnate

It would be good news that Henry Ford wanted to take over a lot of the government's merchant marine—if he would use it. It would be a relief to the government merely to have a few hundred of those ships off its hands. Some of them are engaged in losing traffic; most of them are moored in out-of-the-way harbors, like idle horses in stalls, deteriorating and "eating their heads off." If Mr. Ford would put all the sound ones to practical use and only eliminate the worst, it would be a fine public service.

It is not certain that Mr. Ford could succeed in the ocean shipping trade as he has in the automobile and railroad business. He is hardly an industrial and commercial demigod. Sooner or later, he will tackle something for which he is not big enough. But so far he has had no failures, and the public has more faith in him than in any other captain of industry.

He is in the shipping business already, to a small extent, operating his own vessels for the distribution of his cars to foreign countries. He could use quite a few more ships for that purpose. He might be able to succeed in the general shipping business, in spite of competition. For the great thing about Mr. Ford is that he is a trail-blazer. With a lot of ships in his hands, he might start in to get or make business for them, opening new trade routes and using new methods, and so stimulating the whole system of water transportation.

The danger is that if he gets those 400 ships he is said to be dickering for, he may junk too many of them, to give the rest a better chance. One of these times all the seaworthy ones may be needed.

A straight-forward, democratic American will be spoiled if people don't stop talking about that Iowa citizen who butted in and shook hands with King George.

Of course all this flying is practical and safe and everything, but every time a dirigible gets back to the hanger everybody just naturally heaves a sigh of relief and thanksgiving.

Noise, says Edison, is necessary in this busy world. Maybe it is—for a deaf man like Edison.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 27. — Every few days there is a moving drama of gold on the streets of New York. Passers-by see those those armored trucks laden with millions and give only a hurrying thought. The trucks move from subtreasury to banks or from bank to bank as though a casual part of the passing parade.

They are flanked about on all sides by motor cycle police who with guns strapped in plain view cut a path through the traffic tides. Few realize the intricacies of the amazing precautions taken to guard the vast hoards.

No driver or guard knows until a few moments before a truck is to move that he has been selected for the trip and even during that brief interim until the start is made he is under constant surveillance.

On the theory that no chain is stronger than its weakest link even those who give orders to the drivers and guards where they shall stop and through what streets they will pass get their orders just shortly before they pass them along.

These men are, of course, all carefully selected and trusted but in a city where gunmen are always tuned up for the adventurous foray no chance is taken of a careless word here or there reaching ears cupped for violence.

The windows through which the drivers look cannot be pierced by a 45 calibre bullet. Armored vests are worn. Sometimes a driver is given his route and three blocks along he is suddenly ordered to take another course.

Once on a downtown street a brick was hurled at an armored truck. Three motor cycle policemen shot out of line for the chase. They were whistled back. It might have been a "plant" to get the motor cycle guards out of the way for a massed attack. gle brick could do no harm. Four millions were at stake and a sin-

Touching on robbers and such a gentleman on West 75th street awakened recently to find his apaartment aalmost stripped. He telephoned to his business associates he would be late to the office.

"Burglars broke into my apartment," he said.

"Did they get anything?"

"Get anything?" he shouted. "They lifted everything but my wife's face."

He is one of those social butterflies. No money but marvelous manners. Like the rest of his ilk he is known by that vague designation of being "in the street." He is adept at tea table chatter, dances divinely and wears a wing collar with blue polka dot bow tie for afternoon. Also a wisp of a mustache that flappers class as "perfectly priceless." He happened to be seated next to a plump, middle-aged woman from the middle west at a smart dinner.

"What," he inquired, "do you middle westerners think of our exotic and orchidaceouus type of debutante?"

"We are too busy teaching our daughters to keep house, sew and cook to give it much thought," she said.

Will will be the next celebrity for New York to take up? Last year it was Lady Diana Manners. This year it was Michael Arlen. Neither came here expecting the concentrated rush that fairly swept them off their feet. Arlen had not been in town a day before he was forced to shut off his phone and later had to move to another floor of the hotel to avoid the stampede of the curious in the hallways who were waiting for just a peep at the man who made London's Mayfair well enough known for movie captions.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

II—The Riffian Revolt.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Morocco, prior to 1914, had been a storm petrel in European politics. Statesmen viewed it apprehensively and believed it would be the cause of the next European war. The Moroccan question loomed in 1905 and again in 1911 as a fuse which might strike off the bomb of armed conflict.

For years the old Shereefian empire, but a vestige of that glorious civilization spread by the adherents of the screscent in their world crusade, had been in a decadent state. Yet Morocco remained indpedentent of European intereference because of the energy of a few Sultans who jealously guarded their heritage. Sulton Moulai Hassan was one of these.

To the East, however, the white man had vigorously asserted himself. Franc, recovering from the blows it had suffered in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries had invested Algeria and Tunisia. The French landed in Algeria about the year 1830 and commenced to colonize it. They were successful and proceeded to penetrate the recesses of the dessert.

There was, however, a fly in the colonial ointment for the French. Morocco, rich and unexploited, lay in invisong posture just next door. Here were vast reserves of mineral and

Ox Takes Commands In Three Languages; Fond of Children

BOSTON—The "kiddies" of the Hub have a new pet in Tom, a giant ox, who weighs more than 3,000 pounds.

And Tom can understand commands in three languages—Italian, German and middle west—according to his driver, "Big Bill" Farris.

When Tom goes along the street it brings back scenes of the covered wagon days.

The big bovine animal, Farris asserted, is as playful as a kitten and fond of children.

Born in Italy, Tom may be said to have been "educated" in Germany, and he reached adolescence in the American middle west. He is used largely for street and fair exhibitino purposes.

LEMONS BLEACH THE SKIN WHITE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

RAIDS CONDUCTED IN BROOKE COUNTY

Brooke county authorities aided by state police were busily engaged yesterday in Wellsburg, Follansbee and Colliers. For the most part, they confined their efforts to uncovering alleged violations of the national prohibition law.

Harry Cox of Follansbee, is confined to the Brooke county jail at Wellsburg pending a hearing before Squire A. B. Collett on a charge of transporting contraband. He was apprehended yesterday morning at Cross Creek, near Follansbee, with ten gallons of moonshine in a new automobile.

State police stationed at the mine settlement raided the home of Mrs. Fred Roach of Colliers and found between 20 and 30 bottles of what they said was beer. She was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Brown Lattimer at Follansbee, found guilty of possession of the brew and sentenced to serve 30 days and pay a fine of $100 and costs. An appeal was taken by her attorney and she was released under $500 bond for appearance before the June grand jury.

Charged with attempting to evade payment of his board bill, Albert Horner of Wellsburg, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the complaint of Mrs. Eliza Alleman. The plaintiff contended that her boarder owed her $199 for services rendered, food served and room occupied. The case will be heard today in Squire Jacob's court.

Middle Aged Italian Walks Eighteen Days For Papal Blessing

ROME, May.—In this Holy Year it is no uncommon sight to see pilgrims arriving at Rome on foot, in the good old way, avoiding trains and other modern forms of transportations.

Quite recently a middle-aged man walked to Rome from Desio, in Lombardy, birthplace of the present Pope. He was following a family tradition, for his grand-father walked to Rome during the Holy Year of 1895, his father during that of 1900, and the present pilgrim had vowed that he would follow in the family tradition.

The journey took eighteen dayse. In imitation of St. Francis, this Lombard pilgrim set out with no money in his purse, relying on chance hospitality.

Woman Suffrage For France Is Winning Many Supporters

Enfranchisement is Delayed by Senate Refusal—Chamber Has Approved Measure.

PARIS.—"A woman's hand was meant to receive a kiss rather than the voting ballot," declared Monsieur Maupoil, deputy of the Saone-et-Loire department, during the recent discussion of the suffrage law before the chamber of Deputies.

Nearly every Frenchman is convinced that feminine suffrage should be established in France because it is just and legitimate, and furthermore has brought about good results in every country where women are voting today. The Chamber has consented to grant the vote by a large majority, but the senate still refuses to pass the law. In the meantime, everyone is talking and writing about the question.

"Look about the countries where the women vote," writes Andre Lichtenberger, in the Paris Soir, "and you will see that politics has not been greatly modified; but always alcoholism and prostitution have decreased, and infantile mortality, as well as mortality in general, have diminished and public hygiene has made great strides."

The average Frenchman believes in the theory that "the hand that rocks the cradle" cannot and ought not to do much else. He deplores the evolution that takes women away from her chief function—maternity—and believes that it means farewell to marriage, family and foyer.

Prince Sees Peril To World in East; Offers Solution

LONDON, May.—"Western countries are blind to the great danger which is inevitably coming out of the Far East," says Prince Habib Lotfallah, European Envoy of the King of the Hedjaz.

"New civilization and culture are being born in China and in Far East Russia. That civilization must move westward. A struggle must inevitably arise between the Occident and the Orient.'

Prince Habib's solution of the difficulty is the creation of a United Stataes of Arabia as a buffer state. This cannot be furhered by the Zionist movement, he maintains.

"Zionism entails and need of all possible unity in Arabia," he declared. "Let my country work out its salvation, and we shall have Christians, Jews and Moselms living together in amity in the land which is the birthplace of the three religions,, the home of Judaism, the cradle of Christianitq and the heart of the Moslem faith."

Prince Habib is a lineal descendant of the King of Antioch, who ruled in Syria two thousand years ago. The Prince denied rumors that he is to be proclaimed King of Syria.

Peace and Quiet Go Together, Declares Builder in Address

CHICAGO, May.—A noisy home is usually a quarrelsome home. Quiet surroundings increase mental poise from 30 to 50 per cent. A home against the walls and ceilings of which every word uttered does not reverberate means ordinarily a peaceful family. That is what Jacob Mazer, accustical engineer, told a group of students here.

"The discovery of sound deadening properties in synthetic lumber made of sugar cane fibre, or bagasse, has brought about increased interest in building circles in the relation of noise to efficicency," he said. "Tests made in both homes and business offices where this new material has been used show that the percentage of both efficiency and morale is higher."

IVY POISONING AFFECTED HIS ENTIRE SYSTEM

Morgantown Real Estate Dealer Receives Relief from Distressing Condition by Use of Ka-di-ok.

J. M. WHITE

Mr. J. M. White, a real estate dealer, with offices at 600 Monongahela Building, Morgantown, W. Va., suffered from stomach trouble. He had a severe case of ivy poisoning, and his hands and arms were badly affected. This latter condition augmented his stomach trouble, and his general condition became sort of unusual.

He was induced by a friend to try Ka-di-ok, the herbal system toner, and after taking two bottles, he declared to a Ka-di-ok representative that the results were "very good indeed, and Ka-di-ok is a wonder. It seemed to stop that poisoned condition and its spreading; it took complete charge of my body and made it well." These are the words used by Mr. White.

Ka-di-ok did as above described because it is a remedy which, when taken, goes to the seat of the trouble. It is laxative in action, pleasing in its results. Not only does it act in all stomach ailments caused by indigestion, flatulency, constipation, etc., but also acts upon the kidneys and liver, is indicated for rheumatism, loss of appetite, headache, nervous disorders, bad blood, and auto-intoxication.

If you feel that your condition is due to any of these disorders, it is time to get a bottle of Ka-di-ok and take it at once as prescribed. It has done wonders in thousands of cases; it may do the same for you.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathew's Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 West Sixth street.

agricultural wealth and it was to their advantage to obtain it from a military standpoint, for it protected the Algerian flank. Any other first-rate power in Morocco would seriously annoy the Algerian colony and France had had enough trouble with hostile neighboring nations; always there was Germany on the right bank of the Rhine.

The Moroccan mines produced copper, iron, gold, antimony, lead, petroleum, phosphorus, silver and sulphur. These were invaluable to the French. Also othere were braod fields of barley, oats, maise, sorghum and extensive vineyards.

Many Powers Wanted Morocco.

For these reasons the French coveted Morocco. But with a strong Sultan at Fez little could be done. Moreover there were other powers that wanted it. England and Germany had eyes on it; England, because it would be not only additional military strength added to Gibraltar, but of economic importance, and Germany because it would offer an excellent field of colonization for her expanding population and culture.

Even at this stage we hear from the Riffians. They were in constant rebellion against the Moroccan Sultans. Their swoops from their abode in the mountains were an endless worry to the Shereefian monarchs. These rulers, however, always managed to hold the tribes in check by bribes, concessions or war.

The Sultan Moulai Hassan has already been mentioned. He guarded the shriveled Shereefian Empire with stubborn zeal and fought off all aggressive attempts by the powers. With his death he left the thorne to his Grand Vizier who carried on his work with great skill.

The demise of this man, however, brought his son, Adbul Assiz, to the throne. Reared in the secnsion of the harem, this young man was not capable, when the death of his father suddenly thrust the cares of state upon his shoulders, to carry on. He made an attempt but was not equal to it.

Posing as a liberal monarch he set about to induct western ideas and customs into his empire. He dismissed his father's advisors and brought Europeans to his court. He became a lavish entertainer and the widespread news of his escapades shocked the people he governed. He imported such exotic articles as bicycles and billiard tables, and ran a railroad from his palace to his garden half a mile away.

These things horrified his subjects and his unpopularity mounted by leaps and bounds. He feli a victim to the wiles of a European adventuress, and his affair with her ended in expensive blackmail.

Serious Financial Crisis.

Finally Abdul was faced with a serious financial crisis. The treasury was depleted. The taxes had not been collected since the death of his father. The kingdom was infested with brigands and he was constantly called upon to ransom European captives. Yet all the while he continued his foolish dissipation making himself ridiculously dsgusting in the eyes of his subjects and plunging deeper into debt. Finally he ran upon the rocks of bankruptcy.

Desperate, the young prodigal turned to Europe. Europe's financiers flocked like vultures to the prey. France beat the others and her avid ministers soon involved Adbul in a maze of obligations from which he could never escape. Germany lost out, although she did carry some part of the loans to Abdul. English capital also had its share.

Meanwhile England and France met in the Sudan and the famous agreement was reached whereby England received a free hand in Egypt and the Sudan in exchange for a free hand for the French in Morocco. So, with England's consent and support, France, fortified by her financial interests, moved forward to invest the helpless Moroccan state.

A thunderbolt, however, descended from Berlin to break in on the party. Landing at Tangier the Kaiser announced himself the protector of Morocco and Europe stood aghast. The Anglo-French accord was what he was aiming at. Troops were massed on the Rhine, but the danger passed. France was diplomaticlly defeated, but she was drawn closer to England, something the Kaiser loathed. This was in the spring of 1905.

The Tangier crisis led to the conference at Algeerias in January, 1906, where the German victory of the previous year was nullified in that France's way was clear to a Moroccan protectorate. Spain was given the job of policing the Riffian area and France was given practically a free hand at Fez.

Again in 1911 the Kaiser threatened with the Agadir incident. The warship Panther landed at this port during a dispute between France and Spain and a rebellion of the natives. Germany promized support to the natives in resisting French control. Again troops were massed on the Rhien, but again the affair needed in defeat for the Prussian eagle, for France obtained German consent to a free hand and protectorate in Morocco. In return she ceded a slice of French Congo, bordering on the Kameruns—little comfort at Berlin.

Twice had this western vanguard of Islam been the balancing factor between war and peace and twice war had been averted. Germany, floundering in desperation, striving to obtain a colonial field, had been thwarted. It remained for Europe to start Armageddon with an incident of its own and that Armageddon furthered the great movement which is now shaking the world of color to its depth—a mighty cataclysm of which the Riff rebellion is but a tremor.

Chicago is Planning Big Bridge Building Program This Year

CHICAGO, May—Five million dollars for bridges. That is the sum Chicago is to expend before the end of the year. The work will be in keeping with the tremendous pace this city has set since January 1 in building operations.

The work about to be undertaken will provide the city with a number of badly needed crossings. The most costly project will be that at La Salle street, where $2,500,000 will be expended.

Other bridges are to span the Calumet River at One Hundredth street and extend over the Illinois and Michigan Canal at California and Circero avenues.

Stops your car Quicker!

"I stopped my car in 29 feet going 20 miles an hour!"

MR. JOE Kosmosky, of 6308 S. Talman Ave., Chicago, Ill., says, "I stop my Checker Cab, which is equipped with two-wheel brakes lined with Rusco Brake Lining, in 29 feet going 20 miles an hour."

That's how safe Rusco-lined, properly adjusted two-wheel brakes will make your car. A lining will pass police inspection if it will stop in 35 feet going 20 miles an hour. Rusco stopped 6 feet quicker! With death or a costly crash just ahead, 6 feet leeway is a godsend.

Wet weather makes no difference

RUSCO is an all-weather lining. It will stop your car just as quickly in wet weather as in dry. Turn the hose on Rusco-lined brakes. Then on any other kind. Water makes no difference to Rusco's stopping ability! It is treated with a special compound that makes it resist water, heat, oil, dirt and wear. It will not burn.

Your repair man pays more for Rusco than for other brands of lining but he doesn't charge you more.

IN GIVING you Rusco — the finest quality brake lining it is possible for the repair man to obtain — he accepts a less profit than if he sold you any other brand. When your brakes need relining, be sure to get the benefit of Rusco superiority and the conscientious service of a repair man who is willing to take less profit in order to give you a better job. Have your brakes inspected and relined at any of the garages listed below. They are brake lining experts, using special electrical equipment for counter-sinking rivets in lining and riveting lining to brake band.

Comfort and Fashion combine to make these new summer Dresses doubly attractive, for they are of cool looking pussy-willow or crepe de chine and in an unusual number of clever styles.

Simplicity characterizes the prints, for the brilliancy of their flowered, dotted, or striped patterns leaves little need for decoration.

There are also some lovely models in plain toned silk, charmingly pleated or tucked to achieve the fashionable silhouette. In all of the season's smartest colorings — including navy and black, at unusually low prices.

Chester Team Goes Into Lead In City Industrial League Race

Frank Riley's Nine Wins 7-5 Decision Over Fowler's Club

C. Cebula Holds Trotters to Four Hits and Drives Out Circuit Blow in Fifth; Rival Pace Setters Will Clash in Second Game of Crucial Series Thursday Evening.

Mayor Frank Riley's Chester baseball club went into first place in the City Industrial league race last evening as a result of their 7 to 5 victory over John Fowler's Trotters at Patterson Field, in the first clash of a two-game "crucial" series between the pace setters.

The contest was the initial meeting of the two leaders this season. The rivals are scheduled to battle again on Thursday evening at Smith Field, Chester. A victory for the Chesterites will clinch their hold on the top rung. A victory for Trotters will shove the Riley nine back into second place.

Both clubs, feeling the issue at stake in yesterday's hostilities, played great ball. Each had four miscues, but those of the Ohioans proved most costly.

Not a run was scored by either contender until the fourth when Chester chased in three and Trotters one.

With the count 7 to 2 against them in the seventh Trotters put over three runs and with the bases clogged once and two on, on two other occasions, threatened seriously at times in the gathering darkness to tie or win the contest. A great throw to L. McMath at second by Catcher Potts caught A. Bayley, ending the scrimmage.

The honors of the day were awarded the hefty young Chester hurler, M. Cebula, who blanked his opponents in three of the seven times they faced him. An error in the fourth and two passed balls in the fifth made a run in each instance. Not a hit was garnered off his delivery until the fifth. He permitted but four during the game and two of these came in the seventh. He was a bit wild at times, allowing five passes, two of these coming in the fifth just after he had circled the bases following the most spectacular hit of the day—a drive across the fence in left to the citizens' rhubarb patches.

Seconding M. Cebula in hitting honors was L. McMath who contributed a triple in the seventh that made ultimately for the two runs that gave his team the victory. F. Marshall led with two hits in four appearances as did A. Bayley for the Trotters. The latter's, however, were the more valuable in that the last of his bingles drove in two runs.

Barr allowed seven hits, but three of these were bunched in the seventh. He struck out seven men and walked five. Cebula fanned six, and issued five tickets to first.

Travis took Hunselman's place behind the bat for Trotters and performed well.

The veteran E. Bennett held fourth at first for Chester and drew the plaudits of the fans when he held A. Bayley's fly in the second after it had bounced upward from his glove.

Deshler probably will do the slab work for Trotters on Thursday evening, and it is entirely possible that Chester may send back Cebula. If not, either Powell or Hoy will draw the assignment.

How the Runs Were Made.

Parsons dropped L. McMath's long fly in the fourth. P. Cebula walked. Potts flew to A. Bayley. Both runners moved up. F. Marshall drove to E. Bayley but L. McMath scored. Cochrane singled to left, the ball hitting Parsons and P. Cebula scoring. F. Marshall also came in on Parsons' high throw to stop him at the plate and Cochrane reached third. E. Bennett went out, Barr to Pollock and Cochrane counted as Travis dropped Pollock's assist.

Pollock, in Trotters' half, walked and stole second. He scored as Cochrane threw low to catch Kinsey at first.

The big punch of the fifth was M. Cebula's homer, scoring the fifth run.

Travis singled in the fifth and reached second on a passed ball and third on Barr's out. L. McMath to E. Bennett. He tallied on another passed ball.

P. Bennett singled in the seventh and stole second. He scored on L. McMath's triple to middle. P. Cebula singled, scoring McMath.

In Trotters' half of the seventh, Deshler went in to bat for Barr. Cochrane booted his drive. J. Strobel singled, but was forced at second, M. Cebula to L. McMath, as Deshler ambled over the plate. L. McMath juggled E. Bayley's rap and Pollock walked, clogging the paths. A. Bayley singled, scoring Parsons and E. Bayley, but was caught stealing second after Kinsey had fouled to Cochrane.

Tribe Loses Double.

ST. LOUIS, May 27. — With good pitching, the Browns won both games of their first doubleheader of the season here against the Cleveland Indians. Elam Van Gilder hurled the first victory, 8 to 4, and Dave Danforth tossed the second, 5 to 4.

Ken Williams, outfielder, slammed out a circuit clout in the ninth inning of the first game, in which George Sisler, Brown playing manager, bagged four hits. About 8,000 attended.

B. & W. TOSSERS DROP CLOSE ONE

K. T. K. Wins Pitchers' Duel by Score of 2-1.

Babcock & Wilcox lost a hair line decision to the K. T. K. City Industrial league entry last evening at Columbian park. The score was 2 to 1.

McGeehan and Sainor indulged in a pitchers' battle. The former allowed but three and the latter five hits. Both struck out six each and neither allowed a single pass. It was a great day for both moundsmen.

Finley's error in the first put Werkheiser on. Sharp's double scored him.

In the fourth Sharp bunted to McGeehan who threw widly to first. He scored on Simcox's long single. The latter went to second on the play and counted on Merchant's single.

CARDINALS TRIM FORD MOTORS, 14-0

The East Liverpool Cardinals, formerly the Sherwood nine, defeated the Ford Motors, 14 to 0, last evening on the former's grounds.

The feature of the clash was the stickwork of Daddy Jones, the Cardinals' manager, who collected three blows in four times up. Myers, the Cardial hurler, was in rare form, fanning seven opponents. Games can be arranged with the Cardinals by calling 1765-J.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Babe Ruth, from the bench, watched the Yankees draw an even break in their twin bill with the Red Sox yesterday when they came back strong after losing the first game, 3 to 2, and batted out a 6 to 1 victory in the second encounter.

Shocker allowed but four scattered hits in the Yankee triumph, the only run off him being Todt's homer in the fourth inning.

MANNA ENGLISH DERBY WINNER

Cross Bow and Runnymede, Favorites, Not in Money.

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

EPSOM DOWNS, England, May 27.—The Derby, England's greatest race classic, was won today by Manna, owned by H. E. Morris, of Shanghai, China.

Cross Bow, owned by Lord and Lady Astor (formerly Nancy Langhorne, of Virginia), and a heavily backed favorite, was not in the money, nor was the king's entry, Runnymede, which was touted by the Prince of Wales as a good thing.

Second place went to Zionist and third place to Sirdar.

Manna was an early favorite, but dropped second to Lord Astor's Cross Bow in the late betting, despite the fact that Manna was ridden by Steve Donoughe, England's premier jockey and the rider of three previous Derby winners.

Manna is the property of H. E. Morris, newspaper publisher of Shanghi, China. He was quoted at 7 to 1 some little time before the race.

McTigue May Upset Berlenbach Backers In Friday's Battle

Walsh Asserts Champion's Experience and Cleverness May Help Him Along to the Decision; Title Defender Will be "Right" For His Biggest Scrap.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Broadway, wise in its patter and wise in its gambling, has installed Paul Berlenbach a 6 to 5 favorite to beat Mike McTigue, at the Milk Fund show on Friday night and take over the light-heavyweight championship of the world. The writer thinks Broadway has fouled one into the stands in this instance.

If a hatpin is a more effective weapon than a clothespin, then Mike McTigue should and will do a buck and wing to the decision at the end of fifteen rounds. There doesn't seem to be the slightest reason in the world why a fistic illiterate with the punch of a pile-driver should get to a clever man like McTigue in the game at their disposal. But the so-called "wise money" seems to think otherwise.

It has been fairly showered on Berlenbach's chances, and from present indications a lot of otherwise healthy young men will be eating breakast on Saturday morning at Cheerful Charlie's, where the service is quick but queer.

The complex on Berlenbach apparently has been influenced by the fact that McTigue is defending his title to a referee's decision for the first time and, therefore, can't afford to stall his way to the final bell, as has been his wont. They think Mike will be forced into the open, and probably he will.

They forget that McTigue can fight when forced to that unpleasant occupation. He says he is prepared to do nothing else on Friday night, and if there must be a choice between two determined fighting men, the writer will string along with the one with superior speed and experience. Berlenbach has never beaten a good man; then, why McTigue?

Age, they say, will be a factor. If so, it would be on the side of McTigue, who has used it to learn much of ring ways and to keep his condition as a woman guards her complexion. McTigue, according to the best advices, will be absolutely right on Friday.

He probably will be so "right" that he will stand off Berlenbach's rushes for the first ten rounds and stab off Berlenbach's head for the last five.

Nurmi Badly Beaten In Half-Mile Race

Alan Helffrich Leads Finn by 12 Yards at Wire in Scratch Event.

NEW YORK, May 27—Paavo Nurmi, badly beaten by Allan Helffrich in a special 880-yard race at the Yankee stadium last night, declared today that he had no excuse to offer for his first real defeat in a scratch race since 1920 and admitted that the American was his superior at the distance. At least under existing conditions.

Helffrich finished 12 yards in front in the rather slow time of 1:56 4-5.

"I am tired," Nurmi said, through an interpreter, "I am going back to Finland for a good long rest and then will resume my running. I am not discouraged by the result of the race. Why should I be? Helffrich is a great runner and beat me fairly and squarely.

A. A. U. officials accounted for the slow time by declaring that the cool night air, supplemented by the fact that the track was badly cut up by the one-hour race earlier in the evening, had prevented the runners from doing their best.

BIG SIX MEET INTEREST KEEN

Pearce and Heinrichs Will Battle for Honors.

DELAWARE, O., May 27.—Harley Pearce of Ohio Wesleyan, high individual scorer in the 1924 Big Six track and field meet and Heinrichs, Denison sophomore, are expected to battle for high honors as the all star athlete of the Ohio conference at the annual Bix Six meet to be held here Friday and Saturday under auspices of Ohio Wesleyan university.

Pearce won the high jump, pole vault and the high and low hurdles, took third place in the 100 yard dash last year. His friends think he is scheduled to repeat his performance this year.

Finer Performance—Lower Costs Make Contented Owners

It's a great delight to own a four, like the new good Maxwell, that delivers 58 miles an hour, 5 to 25 miles in 8 seconds and gasoline economy of 25 miles to the gallon.

There are still other reasons for the genuine contentment that distinguishes all good Maxwell owners. Their car rides with greater comfort and ease than any other four. Operating and maintenance charges are amazingly low—an advantage Maxwell owners have because of the built-in quality of a car that is completely manufactured within its own great plants.

Good judgment suggests that you get the Maxwell facts before you buy your next car. Owners will tell you of its economy, but a single demonstration will show you how it performs and rides.

Touring Car, Club Coupe, Club Sedan, Standard Four-Door Sedan—attractively priced from $895 to $1095. All prices f.o.b. Detroit, tax extra.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan. Maxwell dealers and superior Maxwell service everywhere.

How to Solve It

Every number indicates the beginning of a word—if horizontal, crosswise, until the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, downwards until the first shaded stop below. Compare the synonyms in the appended lists to the spaces in the diagrams and fill in the words you know. These will give you clues to the more difficult words. When completed the words should interlock perfectly.

MEDAL FOR COURSE RECORD BREAKERS

At last golfers who break course records are to be rewarded. A beautiful medal, designed by James Cady Ewell, one of America's foremost sculptors has just been struck off. This medal stamped out of gold bronze is to be awarded to any golfer, either amateur or pro who establishes a new course record on any golf course—record to have been made any time after January 1st, 1925.

In the past, various prizes have been offered for holes-in-one but the golfers who shattered a course record has gone unrewarded. Holes-in-one, as everyone knows, are almost purely a matter of luck while a course record is made only by consistent and brilliant playing the whole route of a course. Hundreds of course records will fall this season and to each new record holder will go one of these medals presented by Thos. E. Wilson & Co., Chicago, makers of the Pinehurst distance golf ball.

There are no strings to the offer—all that is necessary to acquire one after the player has lowered the course record is to send for an application form which when properly filled in and returned will bring the award at once. This paper will be glad to furnish any new record holder with the necessary application blank.

It is the plan of the donors of this medal to publish each year an Honor book containing names of all Wilson Course record medal winners with records, pictures, etc. To break into this book will be no small accomplishment and it will surely be an index of the Golf Hall of Fame.

QUALIFYING FOR NATIONAL OPEN

By Robert E. Harlow.

LONG BEACH, L. I., May 27.—Faced with the possibility of many upsets due to the tricky character of the course, the eastern qualifying round of the national open golf championship got under way early today when Pete O'Hara, Bretton Woods, N. H., and B. A. Conroy, Arcola, N. J., drove off the first tee before a small but ever-increasing gallery. Perfect weather prevailed.

A lion's share of the nation's stars were in the eastern qualifying round, a three-day affair with half the field playing today, the other half tomorrow and the low scorers meeting in a final test on Friday. At the end, only the 58 best scores and ties will qualify for the championship proper at Worcester, Mass.

The Dodgers staked themselves to a batting spree at the expense of Carlson and Mitchell and twice beat the Phillies, 10 to 4 and 3 to 1. Vance whiffed 10 in the first game.

Robins Grab Two.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Brooklyn tightened its hold on second place by taking both ends of a double header from the Phillies, 10 to 4 and 3 to 1. Vance allowed ten hits in the first contest which were well scattered and he fanned ten batters. Grimes let the Phillies down with six hits in the second game.

Missouri School Children Build Minature Town

Classes in Manual Training Erect Model City of 1,200 Buildings in Part at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 27. — Tucked away in this town, in the heart of the Missouri Ozarks, is a town not to be found upon maps or in the postal guide. It is the work of children in the schools of this city, but it is complete in every detail. In its limits are 1,200 modern structures, built on the scale of one inch for every foot. It has streets, courts, parks, electric lights; in a word, everything to be found in the modern city or town.

It is Tiny Town.

The little city is unique. It is the only one of its kind in the United States. Once before, several years ago, the children, with the help of their elders, laid out a similar town. This year's observance of the rule of children will be from May 25 to June 6.

President Coolidge has been asked to attend the formal opening. Gordon Cummings, city manager of Tiny Town, and Miss Hazel Wilhoit, mayoress, went to Washington to extend the invitation to the president.

Tiny Town has been erected in a park in the heart of Springfield. Pupils in the schools' manuel training classes constructed the houses and office buildings. Officers of the town were elected by the children after they had selected the city manager plan as their form of government.

The personnel of the city's administration force is complete from the manager down.

The exhibit is expected to draw thousands of visitors to Springfield.
